No One Survives Indiana Crash; Small Craft's Pilot Was Soling

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — "He loved collection of bodies and debris flying. He had been doing it for continued today in a farm field where the broken parts of a colliding airliner and a light plane plunged from the sky, killing 83 persons.

Eyewitnesses said the single-engine craft carrying a soling student pilot, 35-year-old Robert W. Carey, knocked the tail off the Allegheny Airlines jetliner as the larger plane approached Weir-Cook Municipal Airport Tuesday.

All 78 passengers and the crew of four on the jetliner, as well as Carey, an Indianapolis plumber and father of six, were killed.

The jetliner, which began its flight at Boston, had touched down at Baltimore and Cincinnati and was scheduled to stop at the Indianapolis airport before going on to St. Louis.

"Inconceivable" "It was near perfect weather," said John Shaffer, one of a team of 16 investigators from the Federal Aviation Administration. "It's almost inconceivable that the two planes were at the same spot at the same time."

The aerial collision occurred near London, a community of 300 about 10 miles southeast of Indianapolis.

Most of the wreckage of the DC9 airliner landed in a soybean field 100 yards from a mobile home park where many of the 150 residents watched with terror as the severed fuselage of the jet whistled toward them.

Bodies, wreckage and luggage fell from the sky.

About 500 policemen and a 16-man team of federal investigators combed the field today for remnants of the disaster.

Airport controllers said the jet disappeared from a radar screen as it dropped from 6,000 feet to 2,500 feet in its landing approach.

Gerda Only Brushes U.S. Coast

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Hurricane Gerda moved inland over Quebec province today after lashing the Canadian Maritime provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia with rain and winds of up to 80 miles an hour and causing damage that so far appeared to be minor.

As she barreled up the Atlantic coast Tuesday, Gerda brushed New England with 50 m.p.h. winds before moving over Grand Manan Island, off the southwest coast of New Brunswick. Four inches of rain fell in Portland, Maine, and two inches at Eastport. But the center of the storm did not hit the U.S. coast.

Nova Scotia's south shore bore the brunt of the storm, which tore down telephone and power lines, uprooted trees and disrupted shipping and airline schedules.

Future Uncertain

Truce Ends In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — A three-day truce unilaterally declared by the Communist command ended early Thursday but it was unclear whether the enemy would immediately resume a full campaign.

The truce, tacitly accepted by the U.S. Command in a sharp dispute with the Saigon government, ended at 1 a.m.

An American military spokesman said just after the expiration of the truce period that the U.S. Command had received no reports of renewed enemy attacks.

However, he added, "Reports from the field usually are slow coming in—unless there has been a major incident. It may be some time before we know if anything significant has happened."

Meetings today between top U.S. and South Vietnamese officials touched off speculation of further American troop withdrawals and an extended scaling down of military operations. There also was speculation that the United States had sounded out North Vietnam my.

about continuing the cease-fire the Viet Dong declared as a mourning period for the funeral of President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, met with President Nguyen Van Thieu before flying to Washington for the conference that President Nixon will hold Friday with his top military and diplomatic advisers on Vietnam.

Unconfirmed reports said Abrams is prepared to accept withdrawal of 35,000 more troops, which would reduce American troop strength in the country to about 475,000 men.

Acting U.S. Ambassador Samuel D. Berger also met separately with Thieu.

The U.S. Command tacitly accepted the truce and sharply curtailed its offensive operations including bomb raids. But Thieu publicly rejected a cease-fire, and his forces increased their military operations. There was no indication however, that they were killing any of the enemy.

Senate Told to Revise New Sales Tax Law

3 Per Cent 'General' Levy Asked

BY TIM WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Several Republican lawmakers, stung by what one of them termed "tremendous pressure from irked taxpayers," have introduced legislation to replace the 4 per cent broadened sales tax which went into effect Sept. 1 with a general 3 per cent sales tax.

Led by a majority of those on the legislative Joint Committee on Finance, the lawmakers Tuesday introduced the 3 per cent sales tax bill in a skeleton session of the state Senate.

A spokesman for the 11 authors, Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, said the new tax measure would strike down the 4 per cent tax which exempts most food and prescription drugs and replace it with a general 3 per cent levy which would tax those and virtually all other retail sales in the state—but award an $8 credit refund to every resident of Wisconsin.

The $8 refund, calculated to represent the $267 a 3 per cent sales tax would collect from the food and drug purchases of an average person, would be entered as a tax deduction on the annual state income tax forms, and could result in refunds for some low-income taxpayers.

Hollander said the new tax bill was a direct result of "tremendous pressure from irked taxpayers" on the 11 GOP lawmakers and all of their Republican colleagues. No Democrat voted for the budget-tax bill finally passed after a deep division in Republican ranks for seven months of the spring session of the legislature.

Hollander said the exact revenue-raising ability of the new tax package the GOP contingent is proposing has not yet been calculated, but that it is expected to be "two or three million dollars more" than the $263.5 million the 4 per cent general sales tax is expected to add to state revenues.

Predicts Approval

Hollander predicted speedy approval of the GOP substitute tax package from a special finance committee session scheduled Sept. 26, and passage of the bill by the Senate.

But he would not make any predictions on its expected fate in the Assembly, which is controlled by conservative Republicans who forced the upper house into a budget-tax compromise far below the spending levels proposed by Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles and the Senate.

The 4 per cent sales tax was a result of deliberations in the GOP Assembly caucus.

Knowles had proposed a 3 per

Lunar Rocks Reveal:

Earth, Moon Are Same Age

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The moon went through violent and torrid pains of birth and early infancy about the same time as the Earth, but then it died and became "a very quiet, peaceful place," scientists at the Lunar Receiving Laboratory believe.

This conclusion, based on examinations of rocks and dust returned to Earth by Apollo 11, was revealed in interviews as the scientists prepared to release some of the lunar material Friday to other scientists for further study.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will officially announce its findings on the moon rock at a Washington news conference Monday.

Here are the key things scientists at the Manned Space Center say they have learned from Apollo 11.

—There is no evidence there is life on the moon.

—Exhaustive tests exposing the lunar material to Earthly life forms—plants, fish, mice, birds and, accidentally, man himself—produced no evidence of moon pathogens or germs existing in the soil. Nor has the soil been shown to have a toxic effect on Earth creatures.

—Examination of the rocks and dust show the moon to have been molten about the same time as the Earth, about three billion years ago.

—The moon heated up after its formation, as did the Earth, and was a glob of molten rock. But while the Earth continued to evolve and bring forth life, the moon—after 500 million years—in effect died.

The Apollo 11 mission failed to still the hot debate among scientists about the origin of the moon.

Before the flight there were three theories: the moon was thrown into orbit from the Pacific Ocean area of the Earth; it is a sister planet, formed at the same time and in the same manner as the Earth; it was formed elsewhere in the solar system and became a captive of the Earth's gravitational field.

Examination of the Apollo 11 samples failed to confirm or contradict any of the theories.

Studies of the rocks gave no promise of any immediate economic benefit for mankind, and no indication of life on the moon. Organic matter, which can come from a life form, was measured at "from dead zero to one part per million" in the Apollo 11 samples, a scientist said. There is some question that even this minute amount may have come from the handling of the rocks and not from the moon.

Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, chief of preventative medicine of the Lunar Receiving Laboratory, said there was "no indication of abnormalities" in the lunar soil and no reason to believe it hazardous to man or his environment.

Scientists were surprised at the number of meteorites constantly sprinkling the surface of the moon. The frequency of these hits was larger than expected, but no conclusions have been drawn as yet.

Dr. Robin Brett, a member of the preliminary examination team of scientists at the NASA lab, said the top surfaces of the rocks were also hit by "whopping great doses of solar wind" the radiation boiled away from the sun.

Dr. Oliver Schaeffer of the State University of New York at Stony Brook used an atomic dating device to establish the age of the rocks.

The rocks contain potassium and argon elements. The potassium element decays to become the argon element. By

Senate GOP Leader

Baker in Running For Dirksen's Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. matched conservative credentials.

Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee is said to be receiving substantial support as a prospective candidate for the Senate Republican leadership left vacant by the death of Everett M. Dirksen, his father-in-law.

Senate GOP liberals have met privately to map their campaign for Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, partly whip and now the acting GOP leader.

One GOP senator said the still undeclared leadership race is alternative. Sen. Marlow Cook of Kentucky said he would face a perplexing choice if the contest were now a three-man affair—Baker, Scott and conservative Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska.

That assessment discounted reduced to Scott and Baker. The Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado Tennessee senator campaigned who is known to be interested in for Cook a year ago.

seeking the post. One problem Baker is mired in the arithmetic of available votes might eventually cause Hruska to decide against declared candidate. The rocks contain potassium and argon elements. The potassium element decays to become the argon element. By Wounds Self-Inflicted?

'Beaten' Menasha Policeman Admits Hoax

MENASHA — A Menasha policeman, who for 12 days garnered state-wide sympathy because of his claim he had been beaten, maced and robbed while on duty, today admitted his entire story was a hoax.

Police Chief Lester Clark said today that James La Count, 27, a seven-year veteran on the police department, had admitted his entire story was false.

Today was La Count's first day back at work since Aug. 30, when he was hospitalized with injuries suffered in what he called an attack by three assailants. Clark said La Count had been questioned "because of certain discrepancies in his story." Clark would not elaborate.

Clark, however, admitted, "there is a good probability that the injuries suffered by Officer La Count were self-inflicted."

During the 12 days since La from as far away as Manitowish was poured into a reward fund. The money will be returned to the donors, Clark said.

La Count said he had been mugged about 2:20 a.m. Aug. 30 near the Earl Litho Printing Co., where a strike was entering its eighth week.

He said he was hit over the head by a pipe as he rounded the building during a routine check. One assailant grabbed him by the neck, another at the waist and a third at the legs, he said after he had been taken to the hospital by an ambulance.

He told of one of the attackers grabbing his can of chemical mace and emptying the contents in his face. He said he had been struck in the face and $15 was taken from his wallet.

He said the attackers told him they did not want to hurt

Dubcek Won't Admit Errors Of His Regime

Ex-Czech Leader
Reportedly Due
For Ouster Soon

PRAGUE (AP) — Alexander Dubcek is going to be driven from public life, Czech informants report, but they say he is refusing to make the traditional confession of guilt.

Dubcek's successor as Communist Party chief, Gustav Husak, and other leaders now in power recently accepted Soviet charges that Dubcek's failure to curb "counter revolutionaries" and anti-Communists in 1968 justified the Soviet invasion.

The regime plans to remove Dubcek from the 11-member party presidium within a few weeks, informants said. Dubcek's departure from his government job, the presidency of the federal parliament, is expected to follow.

Dubcek, 47, upset the timetable at a presidium meeting last week, the sources said, when he refused to perform the traditional Communist ritual of self-criticism. It was thought that he did not want to break faith with the millions of Czechs and Slovaks who supported his reform regime. In addition self-criticism and admission of errors by Dubcek today could become the basis for trials of his supporters tomorrow.

Dubcek reportedly reminded the presidium that premier Oldrich Cernik and Jan Piller, another presidium member, voted with him for the presidium's resolution condemning the invasion.

The sources said Dubcek also protested by letter to Husak about 10 days of personal attacks against him over Prague Radio, and as a result Husak ordered a halt to attacks naming Dubcek.

The sources said Dubcek's resistance, coupled with the cheers given the former leader in numerous cities last month, caused the presidium to have some second thoughts. The result was a delay while Husak and his allies try to work out a formula to oust Dubcek even without self-criticism.

Funeral for Dirksen

Leaders Bid Farewell To One of Their Own

WASHINGTON (AP) — No band played for Everett McKinley Dirksen. There were no muffled drums, no 21-gun salute. Only quiet eloquence as his President and the Congress bade him goodbye.

"Our great men are the common property of the country," said President Nixon in his eulogy to the Senate Republican leader. "Everett Dirksen of Illinois was and is the common property of the 50 states."

In an honor conferred on only 20 men before him, Dirksen lay beneath a blanket of roses in the great rotunda of the Capitol where he spent nearly half his 73 years. Instead of a flag on the coffin, there was the seal of the Senate.

After being borne at noon today without procession to the National Presbyterian Church for funeral services, the coffin this month for special high-pressure tests, the University of California's Livermore Radiation Laboratory said recently.

The rocks will be "squeezed" under high compression to test the theory that lunar craters were caused by the impact of meteors, officials said.

accompanied by Mrs. Dirksen and the family, will go aboard the presidential jet for the flight to Pekin, Ill., and burial Thursday.

The memorial service Tuesday lasted only 24 minutes before 900 people who included the Cabinet, senators past and present, most members of the House of Representatives and envoys of foreign governments.

"He was an outspoken partisan, he was an individualist of the first rank," Nixon said of the man who had served the Republican Party, his state and his nation under four presidents.

"Everett Dirksen added a grace and eloquence and courtliness to the word 'politician,'" Nixon added. "That is how he became leader of the minority."

His eulogy over, the President shook hands with Mrs. Dirksen and the Dirksens' daughter and her husband, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn. Sen. Baker gave a brief response in which he called Dirksen a realist as well as an idealist.

Dirksen's heart failed Sunday, five days after he underwent surgery for lung cancer.

At one end of Dirksen's coffin was a wreath of red, white and blue flowers placed by the President. On the sides were huge wreaths from the House and Senate. An honor guard, representing all the military services, stood a 24-hour watch.

Public Enters

Through the huge ornamental doors on the east front of the Capitol came the public—a last chance to pay respects to the man whose words and voice and wispy hair were known to almost every American.

They came in a steady stream for the first half hour, then in scattered groups—some obviously tourists, casually dressed and carrying cameras.

After Tuesday's services, the Senate resumed its normal business listening to speeches on the military procurement authorization bill.

Dirksen's front row desk, across the aisle from the desk of majority leader Mike Mansfield, was bare, except for a single marigold. A Dirksen hallmark was his annual pitch to make the marigold the national flower.

The Senate called a recess again for two hours today to form a guard of honor at the church.

Down the hall, in the chandeliered minority leader's office, were his mementoes of a lifetime of service—the plaques and busts and editorial cartoons, the framed signed photographs of the powerful, the six certificates each attesting to Dirksen's election as Senate minority leader.

In the inner office, on the polished wood surface where glasses were neatly stacked, there was no light in the sign that reads "bar's open."

As Everett Dirksen of Illinois lay in state in the Great Rotunda on the catafalque first used for Abraham Lincoln of Illinois, the righthand star in a row of six over his office door lit up.

It indicated the Senate was in session again.

Destroyers to Replace U.S. Spy Ships?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy probably will lay up some of its intelligence-gathering ships, Pentagon sources say.

They forecast increased use of warships, chiefly destroyers, equipped to carry out such missions as relatively close-to-shore interception of radio communications and monitoring of radar installations.

The action likely will be bound up in the Navy's trimming of the fleet to help meet its $1 billion share of White House-ordered spending cuts.

The move may also stem in part from congressional criticism and Pentagon studies following seizure of the spy ship Pueblo and the shooting down of a Navy reconnaissance plane, both by North Korea.

Sources indicated some of the estimated 12 lightly armed intelligence gathering vessels will remain in service, perhaps to operate in areas where danger of attack is at a minimum.

A destroyer, with five-inch guns and missiles, could hardly be overrun by the kind of torpedo and patrol boats the North Koreans sent against the Pueblo in January 1968. The Pueblo had only two machine guns for defense.

Special Gear Destroyers, fitted with special electronic equipment, have carried out intelligence gathering chores in the past.

Lay up of some of the special intelligence vessels may be announced along with the next increment of ship retirements expected soon.

The Navy Aug. 22 identified some 76 vessels of various kinds to be taken out of commission.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has said more than 100 ships eventually will be taken off the active rolls. Sources said the total could reach about 125.

There were hints the next Navy economy announcement may also disclose the reduction of some antisubmarine warfare and other air squadrons.

During the controversy following seizure of the Pueblo, Pentagon officials insisted such operations are vital to national security.

They said spy ships operated without naval or air escort to enhance their effectiveness because, traveling alone and appearing somewhat like commercial ships, they drew less attention.

The United States, in those days, relied on the safety of international waters, generally respected by most nations.

However, the North Korean capture of the Pueblo showed that international waters provided no such protection, and the focusing of world attention on the spy ships stripped away whatever anonymity they might have enjoyed previously.

Last July, after a House armed services subcommittee strongly criticized the handling of such intelligence missions, the Pentagon announced it had taken a number of corrective measures, including stationing contingency forces to come to the aid of intelligence vessels or aircraft and new scuttling devices for spy ships. At the same time, the Pentagon said it had undertaken a study of world wide reconnaissance and intelligence missions to determine among other things, "alternative means of accomplishment."

Dayan Has Praise for Commando Raiders, Threatens More Attacks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan warned Egypt Tuesday night to expect "even heavier strikes" than the raid across the Gulf of Suez earlier in the day in which Israel reported killing 100 to 150 Egyptians.

The Israeli war hero said the amphibious raid by Israeli infantry and tank forces was "one of the most daring" since the six-day war of June 1967. He said the Israeli troops displayed "an operational ability almost unprecedented in military history."

Israel said the commando force crossed the Gulf of Suez about 2 a.m. and landed near El Hasayer, about 28 miles south of the Suez Canal.

The force moved southward for 30 miles and met little or no resistance as it "attacked guard posts, army camps, radar stations, military vehicles and military encampments," an Israeli spokesman said. Then the commandos and their vehicles were picked up and returned across the gulf to Sinai Desert posts which Israel seized from Egypt in the 1967 war.

Israeli officers said the ground troops were backed up by warplanes that struck scores of military targets and delivered a "devastating attack" on a big anti-aircraft missile battery at El Hasayer.

Pilot Missing Israel said one Israeli plane was shot down over the gulf, its pilot was missing and only one Israeli foot soldier was injured.

Egypt claimed its forces sank two torpedo boats and inflicted heavy casualties. The Israelis were "forced to turn tail" after suffering heavy losses of men and equipment, Cairo Radio said.

Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said in a broadcast that the raid was "meant to strike at the bases and concentrations of the Egyptian army which have served as a base for commando units laying mines and launching attacks against Israeli planes."

Observers had expected a heavy strike against Egypt for some time in retaliation for recent heavy Egyptian firing across the Suez Canal.

A senior member of the Israeli general staff told a news conference that 2,000 to 3,000 Egyptian troops were in the El Hasayer area. He did not reveal the size of the Israeli attack force.

Egyptians Flee The officer said many Egyptian soldiers fled rather than fight, but he had no estimate of the number of Egyptians wounded.

Asked whether the Israeli air force had used any of the Phantom F4 fighter-bombers it recently acquired from the United States, he replied: "All kinds of planes were used." But Lt. Gen. Mordechai Hod, the chief of air force operations, said later that all types of aircraft "except for the Phantoms" were used.

Egypt's ambassador to Britain, Ahmed Hassan el-Feki, had charged that the raid was an act of escalation which directly resulted from the delivery of the Phantoms. The United States has sold Israel 50 of the planes, and the first shipment arrived Saturday.

In Washington, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey condemned the raid without mentioning Israel by name. "We deplore and regret all cease-fire violations in the Middle East by either side and whether initiated by regular or irregular forces," he said.

The attack, which lasted 10 hours, was the largest Israeli military action in 18 months. In March 1968, Israeli troops, tanks and planes killed 120 Arab guerrillas in an attack at Karameh, in Jordan.

Soccer-Caused Riots Come to Halt in Italy

CASERTA, Italy (AP) — Riot police patrolled the rubble-strewn streets of Caserta today, but the town appeared calm after two days of riots touched off by a setback to the local soccer team.

More than half of the stores remained shuttered, but for the first time in two days large numbers of women ventured out in search of food.

At least 80 persons were injured and 70 arrested Tuesday amid clouds of tear gas and flying bricks as thousands of youths and 500 riot police battled. Parts of the city were left in smoking ruins.

The rioting began Monday after the Italian Soccer Federation ruled a Caserta player guilty of trying to bribe a player on a rival team and canceled the team's advancement from the C league to the B.

The federation agreed Tuesday to hear an appeal against the decision, and loudspeakers boomed the news through the streets. But it failed to appease angry fans and mobs bent on looting.

Rioters ran rampant through offices, heaving chairs, typewriters and files out of windows and screaming. "We'll burn down the city!" Most government offices were damaged, and some were burned.

Mobs also set fire to the bus terminal, the railroad station and a number of shops, most of which were closed in a general strike to protest the federation's ruling. Railroad operations remained crippled today.

One structure that remained untouched was the soccer stadium. Its capacity was recently increased from 13,000 to 25,000 seats to accommodate the larger crowds that had been expected because of Caserta's elevation to a better league.

There was disagreement today over what caused the rioting, but many thought that more than soccer was involved. Some townspeople said the riots had political overtones. A few blamed the Communists. The Communists said general dissatisfaction among youth was to blame.

County Board Tables Judges' Pay Hike Plan

Justice Committee Resolution Given Month's Delay

Outagamie County Court judges will have to wait until at least November before they will know whether they will be recommended for salary increases.

A resolution from the courts and justice committee calling for a personnel committee study and recommendation by the October board meeting was tabled for a month Tuesday night by Outagamie County supervisors.

The tabling action was apparently in retaliation to efforts by Supv. Eugene Kloes, Appleton, chairman of the courts and justice committee, and his supporters on the board to reintroduce the site question into the safety building issue.

Object to Wording
Some supervisors also objected to the wording of the resolution which directed the personnel committee to conduct a study and then bring back a recommendation for a $2,000 salary raise for the judges.

A county judges now receive $17,500 a year with many counties providing an additional salary supplement. Outagamie County does not supplement the judge's salaries at present.

Rezoning of property on the corner of State 55 and County Trunk JJ, in the Town of Vandenberg from agriculture to commercial, was approved by the board.

Owner of the property, Kenneth Heid, intends to use the property for meat cutting and packaging, according to the zoning committee.

Request Changed
The request originally had been for light industrial zoning but the committee had recommended denial on the grounds this would have permitted slaughter house operation. The petition was then changed to commercial zoning.

Supv. Patrick Mares, Appleton, who questioned the change in the petition, said he wanted to make sure the property was used for what it was intended. He hinted there were other instances of land being used in violation of the zoning restrictions.

County corporation counsel A. W. Ponath said if there were zoning violations a complaint would have to be filed before he could take legal action.

Clerk Reminds of Saving by Paying On Assessments

KAUKAUNA — Persons having a special pavement, sewer, sidewalk or water main assessments, or any other type, will save interest costs by paying in part or in full by Oct. 1, according to City Clerk Karl E. Marzahl.

Property owners who do not choose to take advantage of the city's payment plan at this time will have added interest carried on the tax roll, the clerk noted. The interest rate on special assessments will be increased from 5 to 6 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1969, Marzahl said.

Board members viewed the 10-room addition to Janssen Elementary School, but withheld payment until minor construction problems are rectified. Members were authorized to participate in a Wisconsin Association of School Boards conference on negotiations to be held at Madison Sept. 13. Also authorized to attend were business manager Myron Huth and school principals Darrell Larson, James Koehn, and Jerry Kain.

The Oct. 13 school board meeting was rescheduled for Oct. 6 to permit board members to attend a regional meeting of school board members at New London.

Prediction Fulfilled School Enrollment 36 Short of 14,000

Administrators were only 36 short when they predicted last September that this September's enrollment in the Appleton public school system would reach 14,000.

This was reported Monday by Schools Supt. William Spears to the board of education. The increase is 962 over a year ago, he said.

The increases include 340 in elementary schools, 379 in junior high schools and 212 in senior high schools, plus 31 in special education programs.

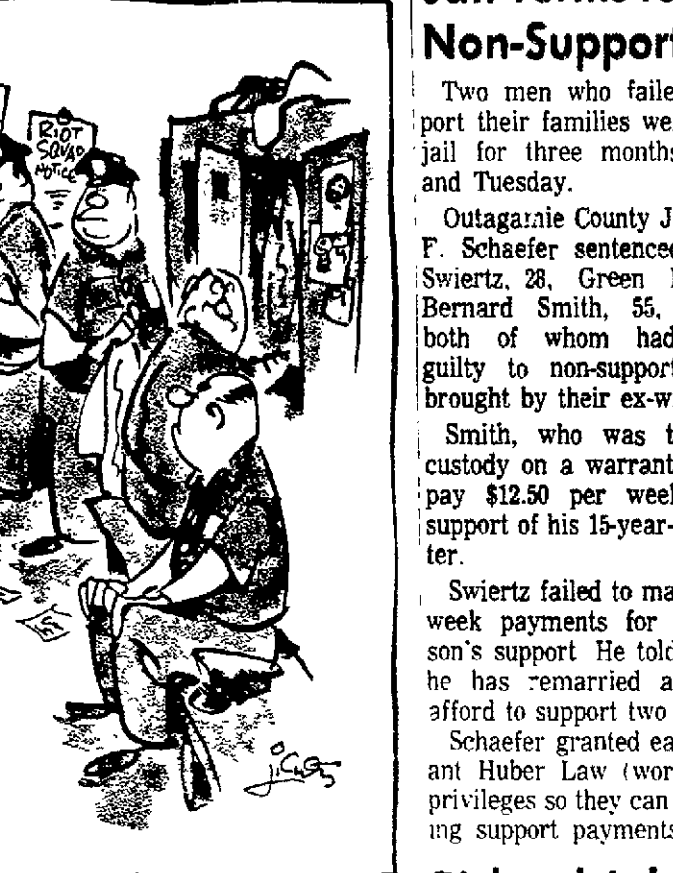

"It's like adding a new school per year," Spears commented, noting enrollment had grown between 800 and 1,000 for the past few years. This creates the need for additional facilities, teachers and textbooks, he added.

Asked where the increase was, Spears said an "educated guess" would be that 60 per cent of the gains were from normal school district growth and 40 per cent in transfers from private schools.

Principals began the enrollment projections early in the year and literally "count noses" to give an accurate picture, he said.

Spears said there was an unexpected increase in the number of migrant workers' children in the system. He noted one additional teacher had to be hired to meet the increase.

State Asked To Get Into Hyphen Case

Appleton Challenges Airline Designation Linked to Oshkosh

MILWAUKEE — The Wisconsin Council on Aeronautics this morning voted to recommend the State Division of Aeronautics enter the Appleton-Oshkosh hyphen case but without taking sides at this time.

The council, which is an advisory body, passed by a 3-2 vote a motion that "it is the opinion of the council on aeronautics that the state enter an appearance as it interests may appear and we take no further action until we hear from the majority of other cities involved with documented statements."

The "other cities involved" referred to other cities in Wisconsin which are served under a hyphenated airline route designation. The council had asked in August that these cities submit their views on the case.

North Central Listing

The Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce, along with the City of Appleton and Outagamie County, has petitioned the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to change North Central Airlines route certification for Oshkosh from "Oshkosh - Appleton" to "Oshkosh" alone.

The CAB has denied a writ from Appleton seeking an early hearing on its petition and has indicated it will be placed on the regular calendar for hearing.

The aeronautics council heard arguments from both Appleton and Oshkosh officials in July, with Oshkosh representatives opposing the Appleton position.

In August the council decided to seek opinions from other state cities operating under the same hyphenated route designations as Oshkosh-Appleton. The council today decided to wait until a majority of those cities reply before taking a position in the matter.

Present Position
At present, the state's position will be whatever appears to be in the best interests of the state without taking sides.

Appleton Chamber officials contend the hyphenated designation is misleading and results in inconvenience to both passengers and freight destined for Appleton from other parts of the country.

They contend that since the new Outagamie County Airport has been in operation and with Air Wisconsin providing connecting service to other parts of the country, circumstances which resulted in the hyphenated designation being made by the CAB in 1954 no longer exist.

In 'Middle of Priority'

VTE-12 Could Get Sizable Share of Building Expense

BY ANN GREENWALD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12) is in the "middle of the priority area" for receiving federal funds, State Vocational Director Clarence Griebner, Madison, told the Post-Crescent today. If the House of Representatives proposed budget for vocational education passes the Senate, he said, the district could get some 15 to 20 per cent of the cost of the proposed $6 million vocational facility.

Congress is expected to enact budget legislation in late October or early November, Griebner said, and until then, federal funding is an uncertainty. The original vocational budget proposed by President Richard Nixon and the Bureau of the Budget amounts to about $274 million, Griebner said, which would mean that Wisconsin would be allocated slightly more than $5 million.

However, Griebner explained, the House of Representatives increased the amount to $448 million at the end of July, which would give Wisconsin between an extra cost factor of 10 to 12 per cent," will be added, Bordini said.

Following the luncheon, the businessmen will attend the Lawrence-Monmouth football game.

Bordini also answered a statement made by Appleton Mayor George Buckley that the building could not be kept to the $6 million estimate. Buckley said that, based on the number

Time Schedule

The time schedule for the vocational district calls for a Sept. 15 public hearing on the board's intent to bond, according to Dominic Bordini, Kaukauna, assistant director of research, development and operation. On Sept. 29 the board is scheduled to adopt the resolution to float the $6 million bond, but after that the schedule is open, Bordini said.

The board will then float the bond "when the market is favorable," Bordini said, "and hopefully by that time we will have heard about federal funding comes immediately," he added, the bond will be issued anyway. "If we keep delaying,

Officials Answer Questions

Sales Tax Is Complicated

BY ARLEN BOARDMAN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

In the face of a move to repeal the 10-day-old 4 per cent state sales tax, Wisconsin Department of Taxation officials from Appleton this morning provided business and industry what explanations they could on the complicated tax.

Declining to Comment on the bill to repeal it, Glen H. Moore, director of the 20-county north-eastern Wisconsin district, and his field compliance supervisor, Allen H. Rappel, fielded questions from about 200 contractors, retailers, manufacturers and persons in business for themselves.

Moore said at the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce-sponsored meeting that the new tax has created many questions on whether certain items are taxable in certain situations, and the taxation department is working to clarify these.

However, he said that persons making sales should "protect yourselves" on questionable items by either charging a tax or by completing exemption certificates indicating why no tax was collected.

Exempt Items
Although the 4 per cent tax covers many more items, including clothing and materials in municipal contracts than the old 3 per cent tax, he listed numerous items and situations which still are exempt.

Moore admitted it will be difficult to enforce the new tax, particularly the user's tax which mainly covers materials purchased from outside the state. However, he noted only 1 to 2 per cent of the businesses in his region ever are delinquent in payments to the state. He indicated he is proceeding on the new tax, despite the prospects of the proposed repeal, which would revert the tax to 3 per cent on almost all tangible items.

He agreed that it would cause department problems, if there is more paperwork for the businessman, he said. He indicated the new tax probably doubled the amount of sales tax liability for a family with a $9,600 annual income, with those with higher incomes being increased even more.

Moore and Rappel said they could not explain the logic of the 4 per cent tax

Appleton Gets Deadline on Safety Building

Decision Wanted by Sept. 18

BY DON CASTONIA

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The City of Appleton will have until noon, Sept. 18, to decide whether it wants to participate in a joint safety building with Outagamie County.

Supervisors Tuesday night approved, by a 4-2-3 vote, a resolution asking the city to notify the board's public properties committee by the deadline whether they are interested in leasing space in the proposed building and, if so, how much.

At the same time, efforts to revive the idea of moving the proposed structure to another site were squelched.

More Time

Supv. Jerome Hiler, Appleton, chairman of the public properties committee, said the resolution was prompted by a request from Appleton Ald. John Ayers, (12th) who wanted more time for the city to prepare its requirements.

"I feel the county cannot afford not to consider the city," Hiler said. "I hope the city will ask to meet with the public properties committee," he added.

Hiler assured board members the resolution would not delay jail plans.

Several supervisors contended the city is no longer interested in the project since few city officials had appeared at two previous joint committee meetings. However, Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th) denied a lack of interest. The reason, he said, month.

Wussow attempted to get consideration for a city-county complex on county farm land, a site which had been rejected several times in the past.

Both Wussow and Supv. John Schreiter, Appleton, denied last month's action by the board, in approving jail plans, tied the building to the existing court-house site.

An exasperated Hiler told the end of the board meeting supervisors the building could be constructed at any location they chose. "You can build it at the site," he said.

The county board will hold its joint safety building and the annual equalization meeting at the Sept. 18 at which time state board shouldn't be pushing the county's equalized tax figures.

While the city's deadline for Appleton, to revive a new indicating interest in the county site location for the safety is noon that day, there was no building were ruled out of order indication the safety building by Esler and Corporation Coun-would be included as a special sel A. W. Ponath on the grounds item of business at the equalization meeting.

CAP Promised Building Funds

Air Patrol's New Headquarters Will Cost $40,000

The Fox Cities Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol was guaranteed a home Tuesday night when Outagamie County Board members approved providing $10,500 toward construction of a CAP headquarters at the Outagamie County Airport.

The building, which will include a hangar for the squadron airplane, several classrooms and office space, is expected to cost about $40,000.

Col. E. C. Woods, squadron commander, told the board the building which will be owned by the county is vital to the CAP. "We have been operating from homes, schools and churches for the last 20 years. Now, we would like a home of our own," he said.

The squadron's latest home, a church, will not be available after this month.

As part of the agreement, office space for the county's airport manager will be provided in the building free until a new airport terminal is constructed. The squadron also will conduct a one month aircraft survey each year and the county's annual subsidy to the CAP will be reduced from $2,500 to $1,500.

Woods said that firms have agreed to donate most of the plumbing, heating and electrical work necessary to complete the structure.

An airport operations ordinance proposed by the airport committee was referred to the executive committee for study and recommendation at the October board session.

The ordinance would outline the duties and authority of the airport committee, set down operating policies at the airport and create land use policies on the airport itself.

Efforts to create a rifle range in the Town of Center were ended when the board turned back a proposed rifle range site to the Outagamie Conservation Club, Inc.

In September of 1963, the county had accepted the land from the club and agreed to develop a rifle range. Supv. Henry Breiting, Towns of Deer Creek and Maple Creek, said it would cost too much to provide the necessary safety features and, he added, opposition to the range has developed among neighboring property owners.

Building Permit Denied, Applicant Suing Outagamie

Outagamie County, Frank Charlesworth, the county's coordinator of public services, and County Clerk Arthur Hoolihan have been named in a suit filed by Norbert W. Mauthie who contends he was denied a building permit for a single-family home in the Town of Center.

In a summons filed with the county board Tuesday night, Mauthie said he is seeking "recovery of money damages for willful, deliberate and malicious withholding of a building permit."

County officials have denied the charges.

Police Check 3 Burglaries

Change Machine Is Wrecked in Einstein School Cafeteria

Three burglaries, one of them at an Appleton school, were under investigation this morning by detectives.

A dollar bill changing machine owned by Karras Vending Service was extensively damaged when burglars entered Einstein Junior High School late Tuesday or early today.

Detectives said entry into the school was gained by prying an east door. The change machine, which was in the school cafeteria, was pruned open and bent. The machine had been emptied on Tuesday afternoon.

Court Issues Warrant for Taxi Driver

A two-count warrant was signed Tuesday against a 35-year-old Appleton man who allegedly took his employer's taxi cab and money.

The warrant, signed by Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer, names Samuel L. Hollifield, 708 E. North St., who is being sought by authorities.

The district attorney's office charged Hollifield with taking and driving, without consent, a 1961 Chevrolet owned by the Fox Valley Cab Co. of Appleton, and with the theft of more than $100 from Henry Baker, owner of the taxi firm.

The car and money were reported missing early Monday. The money, including a large number of Canadian coins and checks, was taken from a cabinet in the taxi firm office.

Appleton police said Hollifield's 1960 auto was parked near the 300 block of N. Appleton Street Monday morning. He reportedly left his rented room about 5 a.m. Monday, taking all his belongings.

Two Bicyclists Suffer Injuries

Two bicyclists suffered minor injuries about 8:20 a.m. today when their bikes were struck by a car on Bartlett Drive, near Charles Street.

Appleton police said that Bruce W. Schmidt, 9, 1513 S. Driscoll St., and Charles W. Holl, 11, 1214 S. Perkins St., both suffered leg injuries. Their parents were to take them to doctors.

A car driven by George J. Hoffer Jr., 16, 536 W. Seymour St., was northbound on Bartlett when it struck the two bikes. Police said Hoffer cut a corner too short. He was cited for operating over the center line.

Personnel Man Delayed Put Off In Winnebago

Full-Time Post
Subject of Long,
Heated Board Debate

OSHKOSH — A lengthy and heated debate Tuesday night on a proposal to hire a full-time personnel director for Winnebago County ended, at least temporarily, when a motion for recommending the appointment was tabled until next month.

The labor relations committee had hopes of enlisting heavy support from the coordinating committee Tuesday and bring the matter to a head Sept. 17 before the county board.

However, the seven-man coordinating committee was divided on the issue, particularly on the "immediate" hiring of the director and the need for creating the position.

Opposing the employment of the new executive were Supvs. Roland Kampe, Town of Menasha; Ted Neely, City of Menasha, and George Christoph, City of Neenah.

Indicating they would favor hiring the director were Supvs. Orrin King, chairman of the coordinating committee; A. J. Kornder, and Kenneth Seefeld, all Oshkosh supervisors, and Max Carpenter, Town of Nepeuskun and Rushford.

Carpenter, who at a previous meeting of the committee opposed hiring "another high salaried employee," made the motion recommending the hiring of the director.

Tabled for Month

Neely countered by moving that the matter be tabled for 28 days, or until the October session of the coordinating committee. The motion passed 6-1 with Carpenter as the lone dissenter.

Despite not getting a favorable recommendation from the coordinating committee, the issue is still expected to be aired at length at next week's board meeting.

Information concerning the hiring of a personnel director, including job description and outline of duties, was detailed by Supvs. Earl Fuller, Oshkosh, secretary, and Hubert Sherman, Menasha, of the labor relations committee.

Fuller said the personnel director would handle courthouse, sheriff's and highway departments and also work closely with the county hospital director of personnel.

The director "should free Gerald Engeldinger, corporation counsel, from much detail leading up to labor negotiations," Fuller noted.

Although the director would receive requests and recommendations from department heads and make recommendations to the labor relations committee, final authorization on all proposals rests with labor relations.

"I was under the impression that Engeldinger does most of the negotiating," Kampe said. "Will the personnel director do the negotiating?" the Town of Menasha supervisor asked.

Fuller said the director "won't be the negotiator but might be called in to the labor sessions." He also will compile necessary information for the committee and counsel, Fuller added.

Fuller said his committee had all the proposals for hiring a director with the department heads.

One of the director's duties would be to improve record-keeping with detailed information on all employees, vacation, sick leave and the like.

Menasha Finds $10,000 'Gift' Buried in Ground

MENASHA — How would you like to find $10,000 worth of equipment that you never knew you owned before?

That's apparently what the park department has done at Rest Haven Cemetery, according to a report by Park Supt. Thomas VanBuskirk to the park and recreation board this week.

VanBuskirk said that a sprinkling system, including at least 1,000 feet of pipe, valued at at least $10,000 under modern day installation and materials cost, was found at the cemetery.

20 Sprinklers

He said they have already found 20 sprinkler heads, but that there would be more. They're located in no set pattern, so we're contacting people who may have been involved in the cemetery back then to see if they can help us," he said today.

He said they are also checking old maps for a full and accurate description of what really lies in the cemetery turf.

1934 Installation

The system was apparently put in about 1934, he said.

VanBuskirk said the park department has removed the sprinkler heads, most of which are located about six inches under the surface and were worn and have replaced about one-half of them with household faucets.

"People can now water their flowers without walking to the pump house all the time, and we can sprinkle our flower beds without having to bring out long lengths of hose," he said.

VanBuskirk had earlier suggested a sprinkler system for the cemetery.

"We figured we should have some sort of facility, maybe with plastic pipe and located in the most-used sections of the park, but we weren't thinking of anything like the operation we have found out there," he said Wednesday.

The system was discovered accidentally when a cemetery caretaker hit an exposed sprinkler head with a lawn mower about one month ago.

The search immediately began for more sprinkler heads, and what water was pumped into the system to see if leaks could be spotted.

Because August was such a dry month, areas where heads were located showed bright green grass surrounded by dry stubble, making the search much easier.

Dairy Land Will Double Industrial Park

A total of approximately 160 acres of land, doubling the existing area, will be available for industrial construction when the sale of the Hietpas dairy farm to the City of Appleton has been completed and the 79.32 acres of the farm added to the Industrial Park area.

The Commercial and Industrial Development Committee agreed Tuesday to purchase the property from the Appleton Industrial Development Corporation for a sum of approximately $163,000.

The Industrial Development Corporation purchased the land in 1968 from the Hietpas family, and has paid the down payment of $69,000 and the first payment of $33,792. The city will repay that amount, legal and accounting fees, and will take over the additional payments to the Hietpas family, which will bring the cost of the purchase to $237,960.

The property surrounds on three sides the old runway of the Outagamie County Airport, which amounts to about 20 acres, according to Ald. John Steidl (18th), chairman of the development committee.

Frustrated Doctor Gets Job Done

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Tom Wixon, a 24-year-old University of Nevada senior who wanted to be an obstetrician but couldn't quite make the grades, delivered his first baby Tuesday—his own.

"She was all purple and wrinkled and she didn't look very happy when it all took place," said Wixon. "But she's just beautiful."

Wixon and his wife Jeannie, 25, had just returned from a birthday party at nearby Lake Tahoe when the baby arrived.

When the doctor came, Wixon said, he just said, "my, my, my," cut the umbilical cord and took the Wixons—Tom, Jeannie and 7-pound, 4-ounce Lisa—to St. Mary's Hospital.

Sunflowers Not Biggest in Texas

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "It appears that the Sunflower State of Kansas has just put us in our place as far as sunflowers are concerned. We have been beaten."

With those words, Frank Atkins, manager of the Beeville (Bee County Tex.) Chamber of Commerce, conceded that Kansas can outgrow it in sunflowers.

Beeville recently challenged Kansas to top a sunflower grown there that was 14 1/2 inches in diameter.

C. B. Humphrey of Cottonwood Falls was one of the first to respond, with a sunflower 17 1/2 inches in diameter.

Maddox Has Praise For George Wallace

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox says the time is ripe for Southern conservatives to grab the leadership of the Democratic party and he thinks they should rally behind former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

"I am going to urge every where I go for George Wallace and others who feel like he does to use every means available to step in and take over," Maddox said.

Maddox declared the party "must be moved from the grasp of the socialists and the far-left liberals."

Sewage Plant Woes Not Equipment's Fault

MENASHA — Neenah-Menasha Sewerage Commission members were told Tuesday that treatment problems at the sewage treatment plant were the result of "hydraulic and mechanical problems" and not because of poor plant equipment.

$160,000 Investment

Fred VanKirk, an engineer with Consoer, Townsend & Associates of Chicago, who are engineering consultants studying the plant's sewage treatment problems, gave a preliminary report Tuesday that called for about $160,000 investment as soon as possible to correct the more "critical problems" at the plant.

Commissioners delayed action on most parts of the report but did ask the firm to draw up final plans for a $35,000 chlorinator and related equipment.

The state has ordered the commission to provide greater effluent chlorination by an Oct. 1, 1969 deadline.

Long-Range Improvements

Other improvements recommended in the preliminary report include the installation of a valve and a modification in the piping that leads to the aeration tank, a major problem that needs solving, VanKirk said.

Total construction costs come to $100,000 for improvements, other than the chlorinator. Including engineering costs and possible construction cost increases figured in, the total comes to $125,000.

The firm will also make a report recommending long-range improvements in the treatment plant operation later on.

Chlorination

Commission President Safford McMyler said he hoped the commission could ask for detailed plans on the rest of the work at the commission's October meeting, after commissioners had time to study the report.

In other business, commission attorney Melvin Crowley and Commissioner Adam Haber will begin negotiations soon with the towns of Neenah and Menasha for treatment costs in parts of

Hephner Requests Inspection of Fox, Lake by Committee

MADISON — The planned Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi, "tour of the Wolf River by a Robert McNulty, chamber president. McNulty commented. "This tour will be helpful to the members of the conservation committee as they will be able to see firsthand some of the problems of the Wolf River, with the hope the results will be beneficial in future legislation for the area," McNulty added.

All chamber of Commerce members have been invited to the American Legion Club dock to welcome the committee. Don Pederson, chamber public relations committee chairman, and Herman Gagnow, Wolf River committee chairman, will head the delegation on the tour.

Two houseboats will be used on the tour, with four Wolf River natives providing the commentary.

In his plea, Hephner asked Alfonsi to expand the planned boat tour of the Wolf River to include the added areas.

Hephner pointed to a planned federal study in the near future of Fox River pollution as further evidence of the need of the assembly committee to make the tour.

He said that he made his request "because of the dangerous increasing problem of pollution in Lake Winnebago."

"This pollution, combined with stagnation of the channel from which the City of Menasha draws its water, has caused that city to change its source of water to the Fox River," said Hephner.

Quoting James W. Taylor, general manager of the water and electrical utilities of Menasha, Hephner said:

"This change in water sources has required the chemical treatment of this water be increased substantially — so much so that the cost of treatment of the city's water supply has increased by some 70 per cent."

Hephner proposed that Taylor be asked to give the assembly committee a special tour of the area.

Hephner also asked Alfonsi's committee to consider two proposals he has made during the 1969 session calling for investigations of water pollution problems in Lake Winnebago following its tour.

Shoppers Are Fined $50 Each

Two young women, arrested following separate shoplifting incidents at K mart, each were fined $50 and costs or 12 days in jail Tuesday after they pleaded guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Charged with theft after being apprehended by K mart officials were Juanita Galicia, 23, Shioc-ton, and Barbara Harrington, 19, 1019 Evans St., Neenah.

The court was told that on Aug. 30, Mrs. Harrington was caught leaving the Grand Chute department store with five men's shirts in her purse. She also replaced the $4.88 price tags on two pairs of pants with $1.53 tags, according to testimony. The stolen shirts were valued at $3.27 each.

Miss Galicia was charged with the theft of 13 pairs of pants and five bras, which were hidden in two purses she carried out of the store Sunday. She told the court she intended to give away some of the stolen items.

J. W. McIntyre, right, vice president of the Kimberly-Clark Corporation's pulp and paper division, formally presented the American Paper Institute safety award to employees of the Kimberly K-C plant Monday afternoon. The award was accepted by Frank Loppnow, mill manager at a meeting of the mill safety steering committee. It was given for achieving 1 million accident-free hours of work by the Kimberly plant, in accepting the award, said that Kimberly employees have achieved such an accident free record 12 times since 1949.

Federal Funds Could Aid VTE-12 Building

More than 3,000 students are expected to be in attendance at the vocational school by 1980, Bordini said, and the coordinating committee has estimated that there will be even more than that. This is the third fastest growing industrial complex in the state, he stated, with a tax base of more than $2.7 billion. A base like that is well over the $750 million required to support a school, he explained.

Buckley's attempts to bring the question of floating the bond issue to a referendum have resulted in reactions from some 72 of 120 questionnaires sent to people throughout the district who have previously shown interest in the activities of the vocational board.

Responses came from town clerks, auditors, and city officials from Omro, Shioc-ton, New London, Fremont, and the towns of Black Wolf, Maple Creek, Chilton, Grant, Royaltown, Freedom, Poygan and Caledonia favoring the referendum, Buckley said.

Bordini also has a solid backing including the referendum, including mayors, town and village presidents from Kaukauna, the Town of Menasha, Waupaca, Winneconne, Oshkosh, Chilton and Menasha.

No responses have been received for either side from the City of Neenah.

Bordini said he opposes the referendum because it would entail a "foolish" expenditure of money by area municipalities. He estimated that holding a special election would cost between $35,000 and $40,000.

If Buckley's petition has at least 1,000 signatures on it, the vocational board would be required by state law to bring the matter to the public in a vote, either at a special election or at the next general election.

Adam Gimbel Dies at 75

Saks Fifth Avenue Stores Built Under His Leadership

NEW YORK (AP) — Adam L. Gimbel, who built Saks Fifth Avenue into the nation's largest specialty chain, died Tuesday night in New York Hospital of pancreaticitis. He was 75.

As president of Saks Fifth Avenue from 1928 until his retirement last Feb. 1, Gimbel's efforts for the 30 Saks branches, resulted in the chain accounting for 50 per cent of the Gimbel Brothers more than $600 million annual sales.

Gimbel is currently building a new multi-million dollar department store in Appleton. According to plans announced by the company, the store will include a Fifth Avenue Shop.

During the depression it was only the Saks Fifth Avenue stores, under his direction that showed a profit.

Gimbel, who affectionately referred to Saks Fifth Avenue as "my child," was born on Dec. 21, 1893 in Milwaukee and reared in Philadelphia. He was named Adam after his grandfather, a Bavarian immigrant who sold goods on the Mississippi and founded the retailing empire, beginning with a pot-and-lace store in Vincennes, Ind., in 1842.

Two of his seven sons, Isaac and Louis, later opened stores in Milwaukee and Philadelphia and with other relatives merged with Horace Saks in 1924 to consolidate their Herald Square stores and open a new one on Fifth Avenue.

Stores Expansion

He once credited the stores expansion to Gene Tunney because in Chicago in 1927 he was on his way to place a bet on the fighter when he saw an empty building on Michigan Boulevard and rented it.

He became a noted sportsman, theater patron and philanthropist and served as a director of several corporations, including the Walter Reade Organization, Inc.

Soldiers Square Mall Parking Plan Revision Gets Preliminary Okay

A plan for revising the Soldiers' Square mall was approved by the Parking Commission Tuesday night, and will probably go to the council for final approval and inclusion in next year's budget, according to city traffic engineer Walter Johnson.

The $7,000 plan calls for moving the present parking stalls south closer to the parking ramp, and adding several extra stalls on the south side of the mall.

The plan would allow the widening of the street next to the parking area to free traffic movement if trucks are loading or unloading in the area, Johnson said.

Sales Tax Is Complicated

some of the exemptions, but provided considerable detail and examples to the group gathered in the Outagamie Bank meeting room.

"Bibles are taxable but Playboy (magazine) is not," he commented, because publications published at least every three months are not taxable.

Noting prescription drugs, artificial devices such as a back brace and eye glasses are not taxable because they are prescribed by a doctor or optometrist, he said.

He added that false teeth are taxable if purchased from a catalog or other non-prescription source, but not if prescribed by a dentist or doctor.

Observations on Tax

He and Rappel made several observations:

—There are several varieties of general exemptions on merchandise, although many more items are now taxable, but services still are taxable more on a selective basis. The general exemptions are available to anyone.

—There are special exemptions, for example, for farm machinery, although the definition of machinery still is foggy.

—Governments, including schools, selling property are tax-exempt if the property is sold to a non-government buyer.

—Elementary and high schools can still sell candy or cookies tax-exempt but universities and colleges now must pay a tax.

—Proceeds from juke boxes, pin ball machines and pool tables are taxable, but laundromats are not.

Questions Answered

Moore indicated his office could be contacted for answering questions but noted it may be some time before all wrinkles in the new tax are ironed out.

Eleven Republicans in the Legislature made a move in the Senate Tuesday to introduce the 3 per cent general sales tax, with a food and drug credit refund provision of $8 a person.

Authors of the bill said that legislators have been receiving heavy complaining on the 4 per cent tax.

Assembly Speaker Harold F. Roth, R-Appleton, commented the proposed 3 per cent tax was only increasing the taxing of the poor. He opposes it.

Police Check 3 Burglaries

this morning that because of the problems they have experienced with burglars damaging their equipment in the schools, they intend to remove money from change and vending machines each day.

Other Break-ins

An undetermined amount of cigarettes, gum and peanuts, plus 12 cold drink glasses, were taken in a burglary early today at The Snack Drive-In, 2106 S. Oneida St., which was entered after a rear window was smashed.

Detectives said there also was an unsuccessful attempt to enter a popcorn wagon at 2106 S. Oneida Street.

Nothing appeared to be missing following a burglary at Stein's Service Station, 2530 S. Oneida Street. Burglars entered through a rear window. Desk drawers were rifled. Police said the burglars did not take several pennies that had been left in an open cash register.

All three burglars were reported this morning.

Ray, who pleaded guilty, is seeking a trial by jury, claiming his civil rights were violated in previous court proceedings.

Newsmen, Top, examine a rock brought back from the moon by Apollo 11 astronauts. Below is a closeup of the lunar rock. (AP Wirephotos) measuring the ratio of the potassium element, which decays at a known rate, and the argon element, an atomic calendar is formed.

This system gives the approximate date that the rocks crystallized from the molten state. Schaeffer put the date at from 2.3 to 3.7 billion years ago, which is about the same as the oldest rocks measured on Earth.

The rocks from Tranquility Base are like nothing ever examined on Earth.

They contain many of the elements with high boiling points, such as titanium, zirconium and chromium, and very little of the elements with low boiling points, such as lead, potassium and sodium.

"This gives you a rock that's unlike any meteorites, unlike any Earth rock of igneous origin," said Brett. "It's just a very oddball type of rock. We don't really understand how it formed at all."

Brett and the other members of the team have pieced together this story of the moon.

The moon is believed to have been formed 4.5 billion years ago at the same time as the Earth and the rest of the solar system.

During the next 500 million years, just a short period in geological time, the moon heated up and became molten. It then cooled, with the final volcanic action ending between 2.3 billion and 3.7 billion years ago. The moon became a lifeless tombstone, frozen at an early age in its development and preserved.

During the brief period of activity, "something hitting the moon" formed the vast flat plains which early moon mappers called "mares" or seas. These are the areas which appear darkest to man gazing at the moon from Earth.

Near Misses Frequent In Commercial Flights

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost once a day the sleek, crowded airline jets that criss-cross the nation's skies have a close brush with the mass tragedy of a collision in the air.

More than half of all victims of commercial jet crashes in this country in the last 2½ years have died because of collisions with small private planes.

And while other areas of air safety are constantly improving, this is not.

The latest crash killed 83 persons Tuesday when, eyewitnesses said, an Allegheny Airlines DC9 jet was hit by a single-engine private plane as it was approaching a landing at Indianapolis. There were no survivors.

Third Collision

It was the third fatal collision involving a jetliner and a small plane since 1967.

According to Federal Aviation Agency records, there were no fewer than 309 near-misses involving jet airliners last year—an average of almost one a day.

And with the vast, growing fleet of small private planes outnumbering the commercial airliners 50-to-1, officials say there has been no drop in the near-miss reports this year.

"We have no intent of minimizing the problem. It's serious," said an FAA expert.

Very few of the near-misses involve two commercial jets. FAA officials report, since the airliners fly rigidly separated routes, usually high in the air. Almost all of the incidents are combinations with private planes—or with military aircraft, which figure in a surprisingly high number.

Near Airports

Three of the nation's seven fatal airline jet passenger accidents since early 1967 have stemmed from collisions, all at low levels near airports where private planes swarm.

The first took 26 lives near Dayton, Ohio, when a light plane collided with a Trans World Airlines DC9 approaching a landing. Later that year, 82 persons, including the secretary of the Navy, were killed when a private plane that had missed a turn crashed into a Piedmont 727 taking off from Asheville, N.C.

Often only the split-second expertise of a skilled pilot can save a jet airliner from a near-miss. And the brush can leave even a veteran flier visibly shaken.

An American Airlines jet was climbing into a turn upon take-off from Chicago's busy O'Hare Airport this summer when it cut through a light curtain of clouds and found a stray private plane coming directly at it.

The veteran pilot slipped smoothly into a deep sideways dive to miss the twin-engine aircraft before the private pilot was even aware of how close he had come to triggering a tragedy.

But at the end of the flight in Washington, the airline pilot sighed and said, "Oh, boy!"

The three airborne collisions have killed 191 persons out of the 347 victims of major jet passenger crashes in the nation in the last 30 months.

After the first crash near Dayton, a TWA pilot urged a federal safety hearing to require that all small planes radio their positions to control towers when near urban airports. For the busiest airport areas, the pilot said the planes should be required to have automatic signaling devices similar to those of jets to identify their locations.

Two years later the FAA has the proposal still under study.

Direct Presidential Vote Debate Starts

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House launches a historic debate today on proposals to change the 182-year-old constitutional provision for the election of presidents.

Several days of discussion and voting are in prospect and final action is not expected until next Wednesday.

Three alternative plans will be put before the House, but only one appears to have a chance of winning the two-thirds majority required for passage of a constitutional amendment. It would eliminate the present electoral vote system and provide for direct popular election of the president. If no candidate got 40 per cent of the popular vote, a runoff election would be held between the top two contenders.

GOP Endorsement

The proposal, which has the backing of House leaders of both parties, was given a big boost when the Republican Policy Committee strongly endorsed it Tuesday.

The committee lays down the party line on major issues and House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford predicted at least two-thirds of the Republicans in the House would vote for the direct election amendment on final passage.

However, Rep. John J. Rhodes of Arizona, chairman of the policy committee, said several members will support alternative plans and switch to direct election only if their own choices fail.

Major Plans

The major plans to be offered in addition to direct election are:

—The district plan, which allows one electoral vote to the candidate carrying a congressional district and two to the candidate carrying the state.

—The proportional plan, which divides a state's electoral votes among the candidates in the same proportion as their popular vote.

Before endorsing the direct election plan by voice vote, the policy committee rejected both alternatives. In doing so, it rebuffed President Nixon, who urged Congress to adopt the proportional approach, although no specific version of it.

Nixon, however, has promised to work for ratification of whatever plan Congress produces.

A constitutional amendment must pass both the House and Senate by a two-thirds majority, then be ratified by three-fourths of the states.

State Legislature Asked to Revise Newly-Passed Sales Tax Measure cent general sales tax with a credit refund scheme which is almost identical to the tax package proposed by the GOP lawmakers Tuesday.

The finance committee recommended a 3 per cent sales tax package without the credit refund plan.

Hollander said Knowles and Republican Lt. Gov. Jack B. Olson had not been consulted on the new revenue plan, but predicted support from both.

Olson is expected to be the GOP nominee for governor in 1970 to succeed the three-term Knowles, and it was Olson who appeared before a closed-door GOP Assembly caucus to help put over the final compromise budget-tax plan which included the 4 per cent sales tax.

Hollander said the only exemption in the substitute tax package involved barber and cosmetology services. He said that the exemption was included at the request of Sen. James Swan, R-Elkhorn, who did the actual drafting of the bill.

Hollander added he does not favor that exemption, but was willing to sign the bill to back its introduction, and to attempt to amend that section out of the proposal when the Senate deals with the measure.

The chairman of the finance committee said he preferred that the compromise measure continue the existing exemption from sales tax on cigarettes sold in the state. That would prevent a one cent rise in the price of a package of cigarettes, he said.

The 4 per cent tax package also contained other tax provisions, including a four cent boost — to 14 cents — of the state tax on cigarettes. That last increase led to a non-violent protest of prisoners at Waupun State Prison Sunday.

Hollander said taxpayer protests are piling up on GOP lawmakers who voted for the 4 per cent sales tax.

"Why, Jim Swan was down at the Walworth County fair and the static he got about it was tremendous," said Hollander.

Swan was one of the conservative finance committee members who originally pushed the budget trimming of the proposed Knowles budget which was to be financed in part by a 3 per cent sales tax with a credit refund plan.

Other taxpayer sore points listed by Hollander include the addition of the 4 per cent tax to the cost of home building materials, which Hollander termed "a property tax in advance."

The substitute tax package would continue the taxation of such building materials, but would do it at a 3 per cent level.

Mass Confusion

Taxpayers are incensed over the mass confusion caused by the taxation of some foodstuffs — such as "refreshments" — and not others, he said.

He said the 4 per cent tax "was foisted on the people of the state."

The new tax would be effective on the first day of the month after it was passed and signed into law. The Legislature is due to return for a special session on Sept. 29, but in such a meeting it cannot deal with this bill. A general session is set to start Oct. 7.

If the bill is written into law this calendar year — considered unlikely — it would not result in a credit refund of $8 per person in the state next April, but only a pro-rated share of that amount.

Newly-Taxed Items

Exemptions in the new 4 per cent law which would be wiped out — and products that would be newly taxed — under the 3 per cent bill, include motor and special fuels, medicines, medical devices, food and cigarettes.

Members of the finance committee who joined in authoring the substitute tax package are Swan and Hollander. Sens. Alex Meunier, Sturgeon Bay and Chester Dempsey, Hartland, and Assemblymen David Martin, Neenah, Tommy Thompson, Elroy, Byron Wackett, Watertown, and Kenneth Merkel, Brookfield.

Other authors are Sen. Gordon Roseleip, Darlington, and Sen. Clarence J. Wilger, Elkhorn.

him, but just did not want him to recognize them.

A search by police after the incident turned up a broken watch band and La Count's wallet.

This morning, Chief Clark said, "He (La Count) is the only person involved in the incident."

During La Count's one-week stay in the hospital he had received dozens of get-well cards and 40 to 50 phone calls a day wishing him well.

In an interview from his hospital bed, La Count told a reporter the community support he had received was great. "I thought of quitting a couple of times," La Count said then, "but it's a good job and I like helping people."

The incident, as fabricated by La Count, had angered and inspired Menasha policemen to find the attackers. Today, they had no comment on La Count's admission.

Clark said disciplinary action by his department is anticipated. The chief gave no reason for La Count's perpetration of the hoax.

La Count is back in Theda Clark Hospital today for observation, according to Clark.

Touchy Job of Opening Mine No. 9 Will Start

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Work on opening a giant tomb in West Virginia will start Friday, providing the weather is right for the highly dangerous operation.

It's a coal mine called Mountaineer No. 9, at Farmington, sealed nine months ago with the bodies of 78 men inside and still full of methane—the gas blamed for the death-dealing blast last Nov. 20.

Consolidation Coal Co. has warned that when its mine is reopened and the methane is blown out it "will pose a constant threat of explosion in the immediate vicinity of the mine for several days at least."

Unfavorable weather conditions that could let methane accumulate, instead of dissipating through the atmosphere, would force postponement of reopening.

Even under the best conditions, says a federal safety expert, the men who break the first concrete seal face several hours—perhaps even a day or more of danger.

"We don't anticipate any trouble," said James Westfield, an assistant director of the U.S. Bureau of Mines, "but we're taking every precaution."

Today's Chuckle

People who live in glass houses might just as well answer the doorbell (Copyright 1969)

"Once that seal is cracked, methane will be coming out under pressure. If it were to explode the men working there could be burned or blown all around the place."

Consolidation has planned—with Bureau of Mines approval—to use fans to blow the escaping methane away from the workmen.

Reduce Sparks

Jackhammers used by the workmen will be tipped with molybdenum to reduce the danger of sparks.

Methane is estimated at up to 97 per cent of the mine's atmosphere. This gas becomes explosive when diluted to between 5 and 15 per cent.

As air is forced through the mine, the methane will thin out to that explosive range. Experts believe all the underground fires are out and the mine has cooled enough to avoid new fires.

If they're wrong—if "hot spots" still exist—the mine could blow again.

The company figures it will take five to seven days before the mine's atmosphere is safe enough for men to go underground.

Their job then will be to explore and repair the eastern half of the mine and seal it off from the more heavily damaged western half where most of last November's victims are located.

Experts estimate it might take months before the bodies can be recovered.

Governor's Chair Favored by Unruh

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh says he would rather be governor of California than U.S. senator.

Asked in an interview Tuesday whether there was any chance he might challenge Republican George Murphy for the Senate next year, Unruh said, "I can see none."

Unruh, long considered a top contender for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1970, again declined to say whether he would run, saying he would announce his decision later this year or early next year.

Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan is expected to seek a second four-year term.

Lena Horne Does NBC Special

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 5) — The Lena Horne Special. One of the better moves NBC made last season was to produce a Lena Horne Special. The network hoped to make it into a series, which didn't quite work out. So they sold it as a special, which means they not only profit by it, but can also get a mass audience reaction, which could sell it as a series anyway. Finally, the lady is a great entertainer and her special a very enjoyable one. David Jansen guests, singing Rod McKuen's "I've Been To Town" and O. C. Smith duets (with The singing star has comedian Pat Henry and the singing "Friend, Lover, Woman, Wife." Everly Brothers as guests.

6:30-8 (Channel 5) — Skip Homeier is not a star on The Virginian, but even in a minor role he proves what a superior actor he is. He plays the foreman for a rancher who is in a land dispute with Clay Granger. (R)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 2-7) — A seeing-eye dog would seem out of place in the jungle, so the Tarzan writers created a seeing-eye lion. Unfortunately, he looks too much like another beast, a local native. (R)

7:30-8 (Channels 11-9) — The theme of the show on The King Family is favorites, so everyone gets a chance to contribute his own. There's "Here's That Rainy Day," by Alyce Alvino. Kent and Lex jamming "Way Down Yonder In New Orleans," and the Sisters singing a blues medley that includes "St. Louis Blues" and "Blues In the Night."

7:30-8 (Channel 2-7) — A toupee can be cause for a good deal of embarrassment and also a few laughs on The Good Guys. Rufus has decided the hairpiece will be a perfect present for Bert, but he goes daft trying to get the right measurements! (R)

8-9 (Channel 5) — The Kraft Music Hall ends its summer season with the final Hawaiian-based Don Ho-hosted episode and O. C. Smith duets (with The singing star has comedian Pat Henry and the singing "Friend, Lover, Woman, Wife." Everly Brothers as guests.

ACT Battery Tests Slated

Data Available From Counselors In High Schools

College-bound students at high schools in the Fox Cities area will have five opportunities to take the ACT (American College Testing Program) Test Battery during the 1969-70 school year.

More than 1700 colleges and universities require or recommend the ACT test for applicants, including the University of Wisconsin campuses and the Wisconsin state university system.

The first of five national test dates on which the examination will be given will be Oct. 18. Registration period for that date ends Sept. 15.

The second test will be given Dec. 13 with registration Sept. 29 to Nov. 10. The third test will be Feb. 21 with registration Nov. 24 to Jan. 19. The fourth date is April 25, with registration Feb. 2 to March 23. The final examination will be held July 18, with registration April 6 to June 15.

The test battery is designed to measure a student's ability to perform tasks in the areas of English, mathematics, social studies and natural sciences. Most colleges recommend that prospective students take the exam early in their senior year, although it is becoming increasingly advantageous for students to take it sometime in their junior year.

Fee for the test, which takes about 3½ hours to write is $6. Registration materials may be obtained from high school counseling offices.

Streusel Tarts

Sherry Pears

BEAUTIFUL BARTLETT PEARS

By Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

With weather turned nippy that speaks of autumn, there comes to the food desk a trio of recipes to match the season as well as the peak of harvest for Bartlett pears.

Word also has arrived that the favorable weather in the mountain orchards of the Pacific states has produced a remarkable vintage crop of this delicious and popular fruit. Quality is excellent, texture is the same and the fresh fruit is ready for eating out of hand, for packing in lunch boxes and buckets and for preparing with a meal or as a dessert.

There are many recipes for these delicious pears, but these three recipes today have been chosen because each is unusual, easy to fix and delicious to eat. One is Spicy Pear Streusel Tarts, just perfect for those ladies' luncheons that soon will start with the club season. A rich flaky pastry lines individual tart pans to be filled with the delectable pear mixture, then topped with the special butter-crumble topping.

The second is a recipe for dinner... Sherry Pears with a Pork Chop Bake that keeps the budget down and yet offers such delightful eating. If this cool weather holds, serve with acorn squash rings filled with buttery-basted peas for a colorful vegetable.

The third recipe is a dessert that's quite different and one that will be welcome when warm Indian summer days arrive. However, the pears and pink lemonade combination is one that will serve for a dress-up, yet simple, dessert any time of the year.

Here they are for some excellent eating:

STREUSEL TARTS

- 4 cups diced, fresh Bartlett pears
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons tapioca
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- Pinch salt
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/8 teaspoon each of cloves and nutmeg
- 2 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup soft butter
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Pastry
Combine diced pears with sugar, tapioca, lemon juice, salt and spices. Let stand 10 minutes.

Mix together flour, brown sugar, butter, pecans and salt.

Roll out pastry and cut to fit five, (4-inch) tart pans or eight (3-inch) pans. Fill with diced pear mixture. Sprinkle with crumb mixture. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes or until browned. Serve with whipped cream or soft ice cream, if desired.

SHERRY PEARS AND PORK CHOPS

- 3 fresh Bartlett pears
- 6 pork chops
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons butter
- Salt and pepper
- 1/4 cup sherry wine

Core and slice pears, leaving skins on.

Brown pork chops on both sides in a little fat trimmed from edges.

Arrange half pear slices in baking dish. Sprinkle with half the lemon juice, brown sugar and cinnamon. Dot with one tablespoon butter.

Place browned pork chops over pear slices. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Layer remaining pears over the chops, sprinkle with remaining lemon juice, brown sugar and cinnamon. Dot with rest of butter. Pour sherry wine over all. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Uncover and continue baking 40 to 50 minutes, or until chops are done. Recipe makes six servings.

BAKED PEARS IN LEMONADE

- 4 large fresh Bartlett pears
- 1 1/2 cups pink lemonade
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Wash, peel, halve and core pears. Dip immediately into blended lemonade, sugar and rind.

Arrange pears core sides up in shallow glass baking dish large enough to arrange fruit in a single layer only. Pour over lemonade mixture. Bake in 350-degree oven 20 minutes, covered. Remove cover (sooner if pears are very ripe.) Turn pears and bake 15 minutes more, basting once or twice. Cool and serve with whipped cream if desired. Recipe makes four servings.

County Dairy Recipes by Request

Requests have come in for the recipes of the three runners-up in the recent Outagamie County Dairy Recipe contest. The winner, Fr. Leola Garriott, of Hortonville, will present her Choco-Cherry-Honey Pie in competition with other county winners at a regional bake-off this month in Green Bay.

The three unpublished recipes in the county contest include the Pumpkin Cottage Cheese Pie of Appleton contestant Mrs. Glenn O' Cock, Dairy Melon Pie, Mrs. Joseph Verstegen, Little Chute, who won the county contest two years ago, and Dairy Fruit Pie Supreme the recipe of Mrs. Victor Schmitt, Hortonville.

Spicy Pastry

Flavored Whipped Cream
Combine sour cream, milk, orange juice, sugar, spices, salt, pumpkin and cottage cheese. Blend thoroughly (15 seconds in electric blender). Pour mixture in well chilled, unbaked pie shell. Sweater Lowdown

A little of the Thirties plus a dash of the Forties mathematically adds up to the Seventies, but sweaters can't wait 'til then to tally up the nostalgia of yesterday with the now look of today to make fashion history.

Long, lean, lanky, skinny, clingy and zingy, sweaters have grown to all sorts of unprecedented lengths, borrowing from Grandpa's skivvies and the art deco mood of the Twenties.

Hip-length sweaters now seem on the skimpy side compared to the super lengths that allow a cardigan to double as a jumper, a tunic or a mini dress complete with tights and a chain or mesh belt at the waist.

As for patterns, tapestry-joined jacquards and stripes of every shade abound. Slated to make a comeback from the thirties is argyle in winning color combinations, which all goes to show that diamonds really are a girl's best friend.

Pointille Patterned tunic length cardigan in tapestry tones of wine or slate echoes the art deco mood of the Twenties. Sweater knit pants and sweater also are available in tones of gold and forest from Sweater Bee by Banff.

The Layered Look is achieved by Sweater Bee for Banff with an argyle pullover worn over a full sleeved, narrow cuffed shirt and coordinating skinny rib Orlon pants.

Contract bridge classes have been scheduled to begin the week of Oct. 6 at the YMCA. Sessions will continue for eight weeks.

Beginning I, for beginning players or for those who have not played, will be Tuesday mornings from 9 to 11 a.m. and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. Beginning II, for the student who has had Beginning I or has played a little bridge, will be from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Mondays and from 9 to 11 a.m. Thursdays. Instructor for the evening classes will be Mrs. Leroy Thibodeau and for the morning classes, Mrs. James Burrows.

Intermediate contract bridge classes will be from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays. Emphasis will be on proper bidding. These classes are for students who have completed bridge course I and II or have played bridge. Instructor is Mrs. G. G. Eastwood.

Advanced bridge instruction, for those who play bridge and want to prepare for duplicate play, will be at 7:30 p.m. the first and third Tuesdays of each month. Instructor is James Burrows.

Registrations are being accepted at the main desk at the Y. Those wishing further information have been asked to call Mrs. Maxine Vanevenhoven at the Y.

Soap, Water Help Woman Baby Her Complexion

You don't have to be a soap and turn on the faucet, think about the chemistry of soap and water. It may help you work a chemical miracle for your complexion.

Each year soap manufacturers run thousands of tests to find out how the ingredients in their products work. Dr. David Taber, associate research director for Armour-Dial, Inc., advises women to use some of this chemical know-how in their own bathroom sinks. "Chemical testing has found the right way to lather, scrub and rinse, the three basic steps of face-washing," says Dr. Taber.

Remember as you lather your face that soap molecules are attacking the film of oil or grease that holds the soil on your skin. Since oil and water repel each other, just splashing with water doesn't penetrate the film or free oil from your skin. You need soap to break down the barrier between water and oil.

Lather Thoroughly
The chemical formula for a dream complexion demands that you lather every inch of skin thoroughly. Don't spare the suds. Tests have found that you need a generous percentage of soap in solution to cleanse well. As you massage your skin with lather, you are freeing the soil from the surface and suspending it in water on your face. You can also use this scrubbing process to pep up the tone of your complexion.

Begin lathering at your neck and collarbone and suds your way up your face. To massage lather into your skin, move your fingers in circles. Take extra care in oily areas like the nose and chin.

After you scrub, rinsing thoroughly whisks away dirt that is suspended in soap lather. "Just remember that soap is not destroying the dirt on your skin. It's merely helping it off your face and wash it down the drain," Dr. Taber explained.

When you finish rinsing, pat dry gently. If you rub, you risk breaking down facial muscles and stretching your skin.

Researchers have found that washing can also help control bacteria on your skin. "Almost every soap or skin cleanser on the market removes transient skin bacteria from your face," says Dr. Taber. "But resident or permanent germs start multiplying right after you wash unless you use a soap which contains antibacterial ingredients."

You're in the market for a major appliance — a washing machine, a range, a freezer. How do you go about finding out which is the right one for you: the one that will serve your own special needs most efficiently? For the answer to this, we went to someone with personal and professional expertise, Mrs. Jane Keely, director of Good Housekeeping Institute's Home Care and Appliance Center.

Countless women have written to Mrs. Keely about their appliance needs and shopping questions. This close contact with consumers — plus the institute's work and experience with appliances over a period of many years — forms the basis for the following advice to prospective buyers.

Check All Facets

Buying a kitchen or laundry appliance is a major decision. Don't wait until your old appliance breaks down completely. Allow for "shopping around" time. Measure and record the space available for the new installation. Clip ads that describe interesting new features.

Ask friends and neighbors how they like the appliances they have, where they bought them and what kind of service they have for repairs. Check out the brands of appliances that get the most praise for performance, special features and safety factors.

Don't be hesitant about shopping in a variety of salesrooms. Appliances are sold in many outlets: one-brand dealers, multiple-brand appliance dealers, department and chain stores, and utilities. According to Good Housekeeping, your best choice is generally a nearby dealer selling well-known brand names in a clean, attractive, well-stocked store and, very important, a fine local reputation for dependability and customer service.

Require Exact Information

When you shop, ask questions. Some stores give demonstrations. If the store is out of stock or doesn't carry the appliance size, color or features in which you are interested, ask to see catalogs or specification sheets that will give you the facts on these models. This is a good idea, too, when the salesman seems unable to answer all your questions on a floor model.

Make sure you have an exact understanding of the total price and the manufacturer's warranty — and what they both include. Also ask about installation, delivery and the store's servicing facilities — and what charges are involved, if any.

Incidentally, price alone is not always the determining factor in what makes an appliance a good buy. The most expensive model may be a "best buy" if it has features you really need. If the price of an appliance has been reduced because it is a floor model — and it is being sold "as is," check it for any obvious damage before buying.

Appliances Like This Dishwasher go through careful evaluation at the Good Housekeeping Institute. Here an engineer records the water consumption during each cycle of washing. In addition, staff members subject appliances to practical use on a day to day basis, just as they would be used at home. The findings form the basis for editorial comment in the magazine and/or for decisions regarding acceptability of products for advertising.

Shift Food Choices To Hold Budget Line

When trying to keep the food budget in line with income some shifting of food choices may need to be made. Choosing lower cost foods doesn't sacrifice quality or needed nutrients, according to Rosemary Stare, consumer marketing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

For breakfast, choosing raisin bread costs less than fancy sweet rolls, but serving cinnamon toast cuts costs even lower.

Switching from calves liver to beef liver puts a menu into moderate cost. But using pork liver can make it a low cost meal. Some change in recipe may be needed to please the family, too.

Changing from ground sirloin to ground chuck cuts off some pennies per pound. Hamburger makes a meal more reasonable.

Meat Buys

Ground beef, chuck cuts and liver continue to be the most attractively priced meat buy. This week some pork cuts are apt to be featured as specials. Broiler fryers and turkey continue as reasonable protein foods.

Some local vegetables have been slowed in supply because of the dry weather. But tomatoes, sweet corn, carrots, onions, celery, lettuce and cabbage are still available.

The potato crop has started and good quality local varieties are produced. Ask for them by variety.

Summer Zucchini and Patty Pan squash are ready now and of good quality. Local Acorn, Butternut and Buttercup squash are increasing in supply. They'll reach a peak in early October.

In fruit, apples are coming in more varieties and greater supply. The 1969 crop is expected to total greater than last year. Peaches are still plentiful but check for quality. Pears are listed as reasonable.

Watermelon, cantaloup and some of the specialty melons are still coming in. They vary in quality and price. Bananas continue as a good buy but expect a change if the tropical storms hit some of the growing areas.

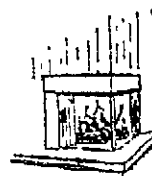

In citrus fruit, Valencia oranges from California are still in good supply. The navel orange doesn't start coming to market until late October. In a week, the first of the Florida grapefruit is expected on state markets. Predictions are that there will be a big crop of high quality this season.

Finessing Unlucky Or Foolish

It is well known that readers of this column are the fairest-minded people in the world. They can put themselves in a player's place to see what they would do if they had only the information that he had. For example, readers of this column can say whether declarer's finesse in today's hand was merely unlucky or simply foolish.

South won the first trick with the jack of hearts and saw that he could win four clubs, two diamonds and one spade in addition of the heart he had just taken. Since the total came to only eight tricks he needed an additional diamond trick to make his contract.

Declarer led a diamond to dummy's ace, returned to his finesse. East won with the hand with the jack of clubs and queen of diamonds and led the ten of diamonds for another heart, whereupon West defeated the contract with the rest of his long heart suit.

Now the time has come for readers to demonstrate the fairness for which they are famous throughout the world. Was South's defeat the result of bad luck or bad management?

Harsh Verdict
The verdict goes against no way of doing so if East has South. Our readers are fair, but three diamonds headed by the queen does not drop, declarer holds: S-9 6 2, H-A Q 9 7 3 D-6 leads another diamond in the 3 2 C-6 5. What do you say?

Daily Question
Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hope that the trick will go to West. South is not worried about impressive trump support you losing a diamond trick to West would jump to four hearts if since West cannot continue the you had a side singleton but the attack on hearts. No matter actual hand is worth only a simple raise.

Sliced hard-cooked egg makes an excellent garnish for a Waldorf Salad. That salad was originally made with apples, celery and mayonnaise, but modern cooks like to add walnuts.

Vinyl Cloth Versatile For Home Decorating

Both an expert seamstress and a sewer-of-sorts will find fabric-backed vinyl cloth wonderfully versatile. Even a cut-and-glue girl can shine in the "make-it-myself" department by using vinyl cloth for many decorative projects according to Mrs. Alice Schultz, Outagamie County Home Economist. Best of all, everyone benefits from its easy cleaning quality. The surface is waterproof so that smudges and soil are quickly wiped away with a sudsy sponge.

The material handles well, is easy to sew and folds without cracking or peeling. Because the fabric, which is woven, is sealed with a coating of vinyl, it can be cut without regard for the straight of the fabric — a boon for novice sewers. If a pattern is used, however, it will be necessary to match pieces or cut them with the design all going in the same direction, just as with regular fabrics.

Kitchens and bathrooms are natural for decorating with vinyl cloth. The material is unaffected by water, steam or grease. The entire kitchen can be color-mated by combining a pattern with a solid tone. It is simple to cut strips for shelf-lining because edges will not ravel or you might use regular shelf-lining to match the yard goods design selected. Curtains also can be made from the material. It's easy to sew and edges need not be turned. Remember, too, curtains can be washed frequently with just a sudsy sponge.

An old wastebasket or set of canisters can be transformed into matched sets. Cut enough vinyl cloth to fit the container. material in place with rubber bands or string until the glue dries. Top off your kitchen trim it carefully. Then, apply bulletin board made of one half-inch fiberboard covered with smooth it onto the container'suds-spongeable vinyl cloth.

Cosmetics Get Some Pretesting Rules

BY ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — A recent court decision involving government attempts to police potentially hazardous hair dyes contains a mesesage for all users of cosmetics.

The case has been bouncing around various courts since 1963 when the U.S. Food and Drug Administration issued proposed regulations that would require cosmetics that color the body or hair to be tested for safety and certified as safe before being sold to the public.

The Federal agency was particularly concerned about hair dyes containing potentially poisonous substances that could be absorbed by the scalp and corrosive substance that may get into the eyes when used in color rinses and shampoos.

Under 1960 amendments to the basic FDA law, such products are exempted from FDA jurisdiction if they contain coal tar and advise buyers to give themselves a "patch test" before use in order to detect skin sensitivity.

Oppose Proposals

The Toilet Goods Association, an association of cosmetics manufacturers, opposed the FDA proposals and appeared to win several lower court rulings that would have broadened the exemption to all hair dyes, not just those containing coal tar.

So the FDA appealed. A decision on that appeal last month contained many conflicting statements which have led to claims of victory by both government and industry representatives. It appeared, however, to give FDA authority to require protesting to safety at least "in some cases" and narrowed the exemption to coal tar dyes only.

Whether this decision is appealed further by either side will depend very much on just how the court translates the ruling into an order to the parties involved. Final settlement of the controversy may not come for many more years.

The principal issue is whether the Federal Government has the question of safety is involved. Without this information, neither the government nor cosmetic buyers can know what might cause skin irritations and other problems.

The overwhelming proportion of cosmetics present no significant health hazard. Proof of this lies in the extremely small number of injury cases over the years compared to the huge number of such products sold.

But government officials feel that a good record in the past is no assurance that the public will be protected from possible serious hazards from some new, unproven product in the future.

At present, manufacturers do not even have to list ingredients refused government requests for this information even where a question of safety is involved.

Without this information, neither the government nor cosmetic buyers can know what might cause skin irritations and other problems.

The overwhelming proportion of cosmetics present no significant health hazard.

Heed Warnings In Use of Pesticide Strips

Protect the people from pesticides as well as pests, says Alice Schultz, University Extension home economist.

Not to be confused with old fashioned flypaper strips, and certainly far less unsightly, are the resin insecticides strips. The strips are marketed under several brand names and are designed to be hung in a room where the insecticide vaporizes continuously to kill flying insects.

As with all pesticides, precautions must be observed to protect people from the pesticide as well as from the pests.

United States Department of Agriculture has recently issued a warning about the use of resin insecticides strips containing DDVP. These strips should not be hung in rooms occupied by infants, ill or aged people.

Labels on the strips marketed after February, 1969 are required to include this precaution: "Do not use in nurseries or rooms where infants, ill or aged persons are confined." Part of the supplies of strips now available in the market carry the caution statement: others do not.

The primary manufacturer has issued a "stop-shipment" order on distribution of strips that do not carry the required precautionary statement.

This is Authentic Irish Colleen Tableware...

Near famed Burren Castle in old County Cork true artisans still inject their skills to one of Ireland's finest traditions—authentic Irish pottery. For generations they have carried on a tradition of quality and craftsmanship unmatched throughout the world. The Carrigrohilly pottery today continues to create fine Irish patterns. Tough, unusually heavy glazing with even twice-fired chip-resistant snow white surface, these pieces far exceed modern-day standards for elegant and dishwasher proofing. Bright-hued woodland gold and brown over snow-white reflect the simple elegance that has contributed so greatly to the growing popularity of Colleen Ware in homes throughout the world.

Your Problems
Information on Mental Clinics Sought

often say, "Your family doctor can advise you." Mine can't. I told him I was falling apart even though the tests showed no organic illness. When he said, "There's nothing wrong with you," I answered, "Something must be wrong. Maybe I need a psychiatrist." His reply was, "Everybody has problems of one kind or another. Stop worrying and you will be all right." Frequently you suggest a mental health clinic for those who can't afford private therapy. Where are these clinics? How does one find them? You do a world of good, Ann. Please do a little more by answering my questions — Counting on You

Dear Counting: The physician who told you to "stop worrying" should go back to medical school. At long last they are teaching doctors how to deal with patients whose emotional problems are making them physically ill. Instructing a patient to "stop worrying" makes about as much sense as telling him to stop sweating.

Here is the procedure for those who want the names of Psychiatric Clinics. Look in the phone book under county Hospital. Or telephone the Community Fund Agency in your city. (In some cities it is called The United Fund.) Larger cities have a Community Referral Service which can direct you. (In Chicago the Community Referral is superb. Telephone RA 6-0363.)

Free clinics are usually found at universities. A phone call to the university will tell you what services are available. People who live in small towns should telephone the County Medical Society in the nearest large city.

Anyone who wishes detailed information should write to the National Association for Mental Health in New York. The address is 10 Columbus Circle, New York, N. Y. 10019. Those who wish private psychiatric care should ask their physician. And I hope to heaven they receive a better answer than you did.

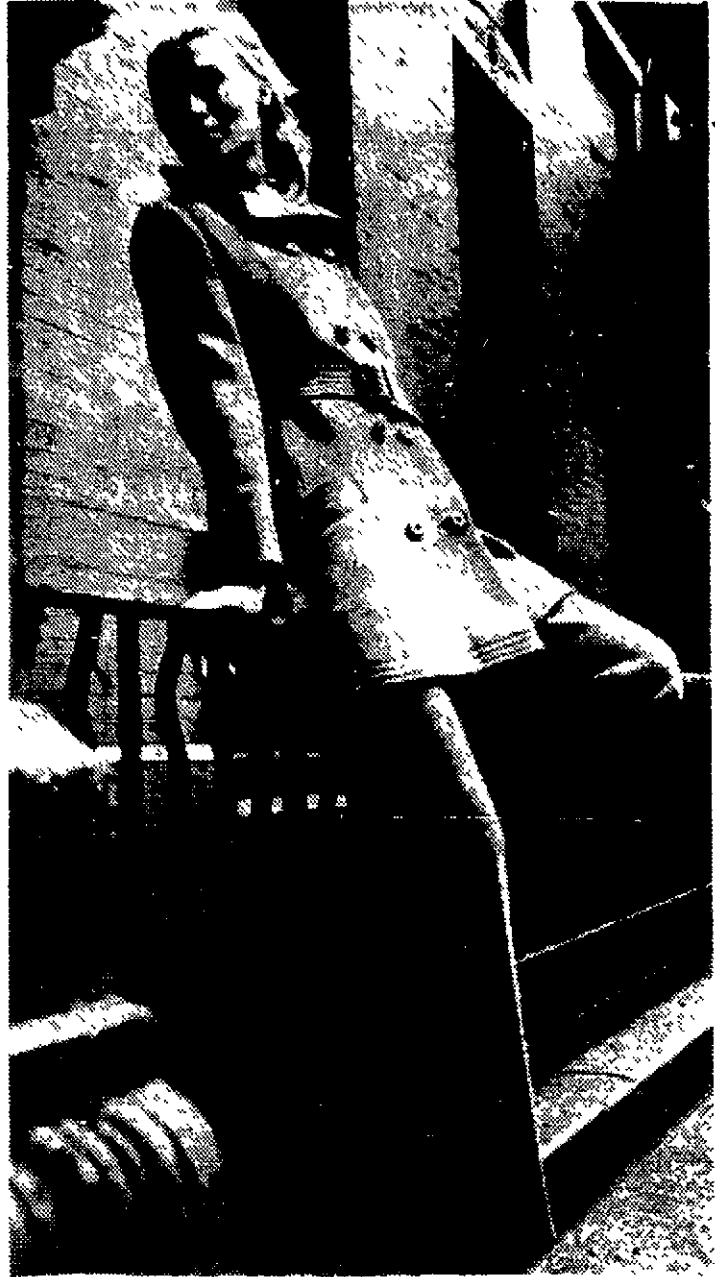

haven't got enough willpower. Last year I went to my school counselor and he helped me but he won't help me anymore. I broke my word and got drunk and was kicked out of school.

My family doesn't care about me and I am sinking lower every day. Is it possible that a kid of 16 can be an alcoholic? Please help me. I am desperate.

— Your Friend Jim

Dear Friend: Yes, a 16-year-old can be an alcoholic and you are living proof. Are you aware that alcoholism is a symptom of a deeper problem? Why do you need to numb your brain and pickle yourself regularly? Why do you find life so unbearable? What are you running away from? These are the questions that must be answered.

Get in touch with Alcoholics Anonymous. (It is listed in the phone book.) And please don't be self-conscious or reluctant to go to a meeting because you are only 16. A. A. helps everyone who wants to be helped.

All Fall Fashion Signs point to pants—citypants, partypants, any-and-every kind of pants. From D'Amselle comes a three-piece costume carefully tailored in Duplex wool double-knit. The layered look is achieved with a funnel-neck tunic worn over slim pants and under a short, belted overcoat. The ensemble in beige, hunter green, red, navy plum, brown and two greys is available in Fox Valley stores.

WINE

By William
Clifford

The Astonishing Rise of the Rose's

Among California's most successful table wines are the roses. This is hardly news to the millions of people who've been drinking them all summer.

What most of us don't appreciate is that they are a new type of wine — new in our generation. Before World War II hardly anyone drank vin rose either here or in Europe.

picnic, where Uncle Ben may still be eating potato salad while Aunt Flo nibbles at the watermelon.

Like Vin Rose. Napa Rose is made mainly from Gamay grapes grown on cool hillsides of the Napa Valley. It comes full aged and one should drink it while it's still young and fruity.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am not sober as I write this letter. I've just finished my fourth can of beer and I needed every drop of it to get the guts to write this letter.

I am a 16-year-old guy and have been getting drunk almost every night since I was 14. I usually drink wine because it's the cheapest thing I can get my hands on.

I want to quit because I know I am wrecking my life but I

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Bed-Wetter Is Hard to Waken
Most bed-wetting children are from families with marital difficulties and a history of bed-wetting in at least one other member. They are also less sociable than normal children and less easy to waken, say a team of researchers headed by Dr. J.B.J. McKendry of Toronto.

The researchers add that the practice of lifting the child at night to take him to the bathroom delays improvement.

Giants Regain 'West' Lead Mets Tip Cubs Again, 7-1

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Spitball charges, chants of "goodbye Leo," and a winning single by a kid who wants to stay in the big time. That's the good old National League for you.

En route to the outfield in the second inning Tuesday night, Cincinnati's Pete Rose complained to umpire Andy Olsen that Gaylord Perry was throwing spitballs. Out of the game went Rose. Seven innings later down went the Reds, 7-4, to San Francisco, and back into first in the NL West went the Giants.

Manager Leo Durocher sat in a Shea Stadium dugout, listened to chants of "Goodbye Leo, Goodbye Leo," and watched his Chicago Cubs lose to New York 7-1, have their NL East lead cut to one half game and actually fall a game behind the Mets in the loss column.

"I hope these hits I'm getting mean I can stay up here a while," said Ralph Garr after his run-scoring pinch single in the 10th inning gave Atlanta a 2-1 victory over Los Angeles and moved the Braves past the Dodgers into third in the West, 1½ games back of San Francisco and a game behind Cincinnati.

Within Three Games

In other NL action, Houston trounced San Diego 9-2 to move to within three games of the top in the West, Montreal downed to Cincinnati 4-2 and St. Louis took a 5-1 lead over Philadelphia 6-2.

Twins Win, 11-7 Baltimore Sweeps Pair From Senators

Mike Cuellar is rapidly turning Billy Hunter into a prophet and Dave McNally into a reminder.

Cuellar, Baltimore's 21-game winner, ran his record to 11-1 since the All-Star Game by six, hitting Washington 6-1 Tuesday in the opener of a two-night doubleheader. The Orioles also took the nightcap 3-2 and reduced their magic number for clinching the American League East to six over Detroit's defending world champion Tigers.

"Mike," coach Hunter told Cuellar earlier this season when the Cuban left-hander was bemoaning the fact that his earned run average was low but his won-loss record just so-so, "after the All-Star break it'll be your turn. From there on, you'll be 11-2."

Losing Streak

The defeat gave the Cubs their longest losing streak of the season, six straight.

Garr's hit drove in Sonny Jackson, who was hit by a pitch and sacrifice to second, and made Phil Niekro the Braves' first 20-game winner since they moved to Atlanta. He has lost 12.

One of the six hits for the Dodgers, now two games out of first, was Ted Sizemore's lead-off homer in the fourth. Atlanta tied the game and broke a 19-inning scoreless streak in the seventh when Hank Aaron singled and scored on Rico Carty's double.

2-Run Homer

Jim Wynn's three-run homer, his 30th, sparked a five-run Houston fifth and helped Larry Dierker become the first Astro pitcher ever to win 19 games, the Dierker, who has lost 10, first pitched a two-hitter until the ninth when Jerry Morales sin-

Brings Memories

Cuellar's hot streak also is bringing back memories of the 14-2 mark posted by fellow lefty McNally after the 1968 All-Star break.

Elsewhere in the AL, Minnesota outslugged California 11-7 and boosted its West Division lead to 9½ games over Oakland, which lost to Kansas City 2-1.

Boston tripped Cleveland 3-1 and Detroit blanked the New York Yankees 2-0 while the Chi-

Staubach Gets Starting Nod For Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — Rookie quarterback sensation Roger Staubach is definitely Dallas' starting quarterback for Sunday night's National Football League preseason game with the Baltimore Colts.

Craig Morton, who suffered a dislocated index finger against the New York Jets last Saturday night in a 25-9 victory, will sit this one out.

Officials said they are hopeful Morton will be ready for the NFL opener against St. Louis Sept. 21 in Dallas.

Bob Belden, a rookie from Notre Dame, will back up Staubach against Baltimore.

Running back Danny Reeves still is getting a quarterback's cram course for possible use if Staubach is injured and Morton can't play when the St. Louis game rolls around.

A crowd of 65,000 is expected for the game which will be nationally televised from the Cotton Bowl.

68 Was Bad Year

Lueck, a number one draft choice a year ago, takes a somewhat humorous approach to his new artistic stature.

"I had to improve last year," he laughs, "or I wouldn't have been around. I had a terrible year last year.

"There were extenuating circumstances, however, he admits. "I had a bad knee — I hurt it in a motorcycle accident — when I came to camp. There I got another one my first game in Dallas, so I had two bad knees.

"The left one, the one I hurt in the accident, bothers me but

Team	W	L	T	Points

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Two Rivers and Kimberly, the teams which finished 1-2 in the 1968 Mid-Eastern Conference grid race, again appear the clubs to beat in the league season which opens this weekend.

The Raiders, who went through last season unbeaten, through New London to test the Bulldogs in their opener Friday night. New London is one of the league's darkhorses along with improved Clintonville and Kaukauna.

In the other M-E game Friday, Kimberly entertains Clintonville. Shawano has a non-conference engagement with Waupaca. On Saturday, Kaukauna will be at Menasha.

All seven of the M-E squads played non-league games last weekend, and all but two came through with victories. On the side of the winners, Two Rivers rallied for 28 points in the last quarter to dump Wisconsin Rapids, 31-7; Kimberly also exploded in the last period, getting 24 points to whip across-river rival Little Chute St. John, 30-0; Kaukauna topped St. Pere Penning, 21-16; and New London powered past Weyauwega, 26-0.

Menasha and Shawano each incurred narrow defeats. The Bluejays were a 7-0 victim of Berlin, while the Indians took a 14-7 beating from Sheboygan Falls.

This season, the last one for the Mid-Eastern Conference in lieu of its breakup, is a banner one for teams in terms of returning lettermen. The schools have a total of 102 veterans, an average of better than 14 for each. Kaukauna has the most with 17, and Two Rivers has the least with 12.

Here is a brief resume on each team's outlook:

TWO RIVERS — The Raiders should be tough again, even though two-year coach Art Haegle (14-1) has taken a University of Wisconsin post. New mentor John Martell inherits a 12-letterman squad, including all-conference picks Jeff Peterson (190) at quarterback and Charlie Beiffus at linebacker. Other top returnees are soccer-style kicker Tom Goedjen, who booted a 42-yard field goal in the win over Rapids, and 205-pound fullback John Hoffman, who has fully recovered from injuries that took him out of the last half of the '68 season. After its latest victory, TR stretched its overall winning streak to 14 games.

'Skins Drop Crenshaw Ryan Appears at Close of Career After Getting Cut

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Ryan, who rose to superstar and fell to bench-warmer during seven years with the Cleveland Browns, appeared to be at the end of the line today.

The 33-year-old quarterback, who five years ago guided the Browns to the National Football League championship, was waived by the club Monday and is now free to negotiate with any club that might be interested since no NFL club claimed him.

The Browns made the announcement Tuesday as they cut their roster to 44 men.

The part-time college professor who holds a Ph.D. in math and described his experiences on the Lew Kamanu, and linebacker Browns bench last year as frustrating, "but not as frustrating as people might think."

"It was frustrating only when we were losing," he said. "Then I felt I could have helped."

But the Browns didn't think so. They thought Bill Nelsen was better.

Colts Waive Two

The NFL Baltimore Colts dropped one man below this week's limit in two cuts announced Tuesday. Placed on waivers were defensive tackle Jim Moyland of Texas Tech and running back Dan Berry of California.

The San Diego Chargers of the AFL waived tight end Craig Cotton, wide receiver Larry Rentz, cornerback Mack Lamb and running back Keith Lincoln, listed as injured.

Veteran safetyman Roger Bird was placed on injured waivers by the AFL Oakland Raiders.

The AFL Buffalo Bills waived safety Hagood Clarke, linebacker Marty Schotthoefer, defensive end Tom Day and split end Willie Grate.

Little Action

Ryan was sidelined after the third game last year and saw only token action. He finished with 66 passes, 31 completions, 639 yards and seven touchdowns, the lowest totals since his first pro season with Los Angeles in 1958.

But he leaves the Browns a legacy, which includes 11 club records. He led the Browns to two Eastern Conference titles and a Century Division crown in five years as starting quarterback. He also appeared in three Pro Bowl games and led the East to upset victories in 1966 and 1967.

It was in 1967 that his luck turned. He performed courageously throughout that season despite a wide range of ailments. In the winter of 1967 he had surgery to repair torn muscles, stretched ligaments and scar tissue in his right elbow.

Haraway to Redskins

Ryan was waived along with running back Charley Haraway who was claimed by the NFL Washington Redskins. Haraway finished last season as the Browns second leading rusher.

The Redskins dropped two veteran starters in their offensive line. They cut guard John Wooten and traded rookie Mitch Johnson to the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for two future draft choices. Washington and the selection of next year's also cut running back Randy's state tournament site.

State Legion Baseball Unit Meets Here

A meeting of the Wisconsin State Legion Baseball Association will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the Conway Hotel.

State officials, including directors, will be present for the session. Representatives of all teams and others interested in the Legion baseball program are being invited to attend.

Among the items on the agenda will be the election of a Wooten and traded rookie Mitch Johnson to the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for two future draft choices. Washington and the selection of next year's also cut running back Randy's state tournament site.

Stevens, Two Others Cut By Packers

GREEN BAY (AP) — Three players, including third string quarterback Billy Stevens, were cut from the Green Bay Packer roster today, reducing the player list to 43, three over the National Football League limit.

Others eliminated were Leon Harden, rookie defensive back, and kicker Ken Vinyard.

A club spokesman said both Stevens and Harden would be retained for the taxi squad. Vinyard, a sixth round draft selection from Texas Tech, was claimed by the Atlanta Falcons.

Both Stevens, a second year man, and Harden, 11th round draft choice this year, played at the University of Texas El Paso.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Jim Wynn, Astros, drove in four runs with his 30th homer and a sacrifice fly in Houston's 9-2 rout of San Diego.

PITCHING — Phil Niekro, Braves, limited Los Angeles to six hits in Atlanta's 2-1, 10-inning triumph and became the Dierker, who has lost 10, first pitcher to win 20 games since the Braves moved to Atlanta.

Roommates Battle for Pack's Guard Job

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Roommate against roommate.

That, intriguingly enough, is just how it is at left guard in the Packers' offensive line these days as the national football league season — and the day of decision nears.

Bob Hyland, the wavy-haired Adonis who is beginning his fourth major league season, rushing, respectively, has done not so that I couldn't play. "Bob's a real tough ball player. Little to damage Lueck's starting chances.

But that man who basically will be making the decision any trouble this year — They've held up... Healthy legs are very important — especially for a guard. You might be able to get away with it at another position, but not a guard.

Regarding his personal duel with Hyland, he says soberly,

Two words loom large these days in the vocabulary of that resurgent Road Runner, Travis Williams.

They are in order relaxation and control.

The California Comet, who had a traumatic sophomore season in 1968 after flashing to a National Football League kickoff return record as a rookie has shaken off the personal pressure that haunted him a year ago.

"I felt like I had to go all the way every time I got the ball," he confesses. "You try not to have that feeling but it's there. You try to do it and you want to do it, but you don't. So the next time, you try even harder. Then you really get fouled up."

rank of respectability in his only season last year, as New London posted a winning 3-2 record. But Biegel left for greener pastures in Wyoming, and the job of keeping the Bulldogs on track rests with Jack Wohl. Wohl welcomes 12 lettermen. The top offensive threats appear to be running backs Joel Kleinbrook (190) and Ken Ebert (190) plus quarterback Pete Meiklejohn (150). Meiklejohn scooted for two TDs as NL routed Weyauwega in its opener.

CLINTONVILLE — The Truckers could be in the thick of things. Seventeen lettermen dot the roster of third-year coach Chet Jurkovic's squad, among them all-conference stars Todd Nordwig (210) and Steve Yaeger at tackle and end, respectively. Another big plus is the return of quarterback Pat Zingler, who was the M-E's best passer in terms of yards gained (48 completions for 753 yards). Zingler threw a 60-yard TD pass to Bob Schmoll as the Truckers rallied to win their opener.

SHAWANO — New coach Phil Erickson inherits 14 lettermen from last season's squad. Replacements for quarterback Orman and fullback Jeff Waukau (the latter a first team all-conference choice) will be the hardest to find. Halfback Jim Kressin may be the most valuable returnee having run second to Jeff Waukau in rushing with 184 yards in 42 attempts (4.4 average) last year. Center Mark Born and tackle Bob Berger head the remaining veterans. Steve McCullough, a running back, scored Shawano's only TD in its loss to Sheboygan Falls.

KAUKAUNA — Ken Roloff begins his second season as the Ghosts' head coach, and welcomes the return of 17 monogram winners from a year ago. A pair of second team all-conference picks, guard Steve Dreier (210) and end Gary Weyers (175) lead the returnees. Karl Mueller (155) appears to be the No. 1 quarterback. Mueller fired a pair of touchdown passes to end Dave Deering in the Ghosts' win over Pennings last week.

MENASHA — The Bluejays didn't win a conference game under former coach Tom Weede last year, but new mentor Jim Corrigan is hoping for better things in '69. The availability of 16 lettermen helps the possibilities for improvement. Pete Thompson, voted the most improved player, is one of the boys trying out for the quarterback slot along with Mike Seidl and Pete VandenBoogaard. Among the running back candidates is senior Tom Bednarowski. Senior Tom Scovronski, a second team all-conference choice in 1968, is still out with a bad wrist. Menasha outgained its first opponent Berlin 156 yards to 103, but couldn't push the ball across the goal line.

Yugoslavian Woman Swims Across Channel

DOVER, England (AP) — Mrs. Anna Vidakovic, 25-year-old Yugoslavian swimming instructor and mother of a 5-year-old boy, swam the English channel from Cap Gris Nez, France, Tuesday in 13 hours, 20 minutes.

Her time for the crossing was relatively slow, compared to the record of nine hours, 59 minutes, set by Linda McGill of Australia in 1967.

"Billy started that one, of course, and then against Pittsburgh. This week, Billy still is running in the first line in practice, so I guess he probably will start against Atlanta in Canton Saturday afternoon.

"I guess it's justified," he added philosophically. "I've got to win the position back. I pulled that muscle I've got to get back to the position where I was before I got hurt." Theirs, he appended, is an amiable relationship, despite the fact they are competing for the same position.

"Billy has been doing a good job," Hyland said. "We're roommates, of course, and we're pretty close. We try to help each other as much as we can."

Packer Patter — Veteran split end Boyd Dowler, who apparently pulled a muscle while running a pass pattern during Tuesday practice, later reported, "I just strained a hamstring muscle — I don't think it's anything much." He chuckled and added, "I don't know for sure — I've never had it done before."

Mets' Koosman Admits Throwing At Ron Santo

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Jerry Koosman of the New York Mets admitted Tuesday he threw at Ron Santo in Monday night's 3-2 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

"Yes, I threw at him, but don't make it sound like I'm bragging about it because I'm not," Koosman said.

Santo was hit by a Koosman pitch after Cubs pitcher Bill Hands had knocked down Mets center fielder Tommie Agee.

"They threw at Tommie," Koosman explained. "I had to do it to end it right there. If I don't, they keep doing it, and they keep getting away with it."

"I've seen it I've seen three, four, five of our guys get knocked down and our pitcher never come close to them men."

Terror Backers Meet

The Appleton West Terror Backers club will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the Early American Room at the high school.

Films of the Fond du Lac game will be shown with comments by coach Paul Engen, and refreshments will be served.

ABA Head Says Barry Might Have to Sit Out Three Years

MIAMI (AP) — Jim Gardner, president of the American Basketball Association, said Tuesday that Rick Barry, who starred last year with Oakland, would either be playing in the ABA this season or would have to sit out the next three years.

Gardner told the Miami News that Barry, the ABA's scoring champion last season, does not jump back to the rival National Basketball Association. Last week the ABA announced the sale of the Oakland Oaks franchise to Earl Foreman, an attorney, who planned to move the team to Washington.

Balks at Move
Barry, both a star and a stockholder in Oakland, balked at the move and said his contract had been breached. He signed a five-year agreement to play with his old NBA club, the San Francisco Warriors.

"As of now, I'm still playing for San Francisco," the News quoted Barry as saying. "I have heard the ABA may have a team in Oakland."

"My attorneys have told me not to talk about it, so I'll have no further comment. I'm sorry."

Barry jumped to the ABA in 1966 after two outstanding seasons with San Francisco in the NBA.

"He's becoming a specialist in this sort of transaction," Gardner said.

Goalie's Wife Negotiates on New Contract

Gerry Desjardins
Seeks Pay Raise
From Los Angeles

BARRIE, Ontario, Canada (AP) — Los Angeles Kings goalie Gerry Desjardins brought reinforcements for his contract negotiations with the National Hockey League club—his wife. "I'm going to do the negotiating," blonde, 22-year-old Michelle Desjardins told General Manager Larry Regan when he walked into his office with her husband, the Kings' rookie-of-the-year for the 1968-69 season. "She came well prepared and was intelligent," Regan declared after the opening session at the Kings' training camp here. "If all athletes were like her, the league would be a much better off. She impressed me more than all the lawyers I have had to deal with."

Quite Refreshing
"It was quite refreshing to deal with somebody like that." The miniskirted Michelle brought her husband's trophies, pictures and press clippings as the pair sought a solid pay raise. Desjardins was believed to have asked a boost to between $20,000 and $25,000. The couple and Regan haven't yet reached an agreement. Hailing from Sherbrooke, Quebec, Desjardins, 25, played in 60 games for the Kings last season. He placed fourth in the over-all NHL voting for rookie-of-the-year honors. He and Michelle were married 11 days before the opening of the 1968 training camp.

Report Says Cubs' Durocher Blasted Ace Hurler Jenkins

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager after a fly ball dropped in the Leo Durocher refused to comment on anything Sunday following his Chicago Cubs loss to drop Saturday. Jenkins said, the Pittsburgh Pirates but he "I made some remarks about it apparently had plenty to say before the game and most of his words were directed at top pitcher Ferguson Jenkins. "Durocher didn't like what I said and called a meeting about it," Jenkins added Tuesday in stories from New York, where the Cubs lost Monday night to the New York Mets. whether anybody had anything to say. I didn't make any reply. He's entitled to his judgment but I have never quit on this ball club," the tall Canadian-implicated that Jenkins didn't give born right-hander said. Jenkins said, "He's (Durocher) got a right to handle the situation in his own way. I know what my job is, and I'm not going to say anything. I want my five more starts." Durocher was unavailable in Saturday and he came apart

At St. Norbert College

'Million Dollar' Backfield

By LEN WAGNER
Green Bay Press-Gazette

DE PERE, Wis. (AP) — St. Norbert College Coach Howie (Chick) Kolstad feels that if he could find a couple of spare fullbacks somewhere, he could have a pretty good football team this fall.

This may seem like an unusual concern for a coach who unexpectedly lost his No. 1 and quarterback but still has what he likes to call a "million dollar" backfield.

To understand Kolstad's feeling, however, one must look only to last year when he opened the season in dire need of some offensive guards. And he found them in Tom Schoen and Tom Vandembush, both fullbacks.

Their conversion was so successful that they were key factors in the Green Knights' 6-2-1 season. Kolstad felt that the log might even have been better had not Schoen been injured about midway in the campaign.

Have Graduated
Unfortunately, both Schoen and Vandembush have graduated, leaving a now familiar gap at guard. And some counted on potential in the position

The Professional Golf Association has announced its Tournament Players Division will provide $50,000 from its general fund to players entitled to prize money as a temporary advance against any money the players may recover from the tournament sponsor.

Sponsors of the Michigan Golf Classic played at Walled Lake, Mich., said they could not make payment of prize money totaling $100,000. Seventy-two were to have shared in the prizes.

The tournament was won by Larry Ziegler, who was to receive $20,000, on the second extra hole of a sudden death playoff with Homero Blancas.

Joseph C. Dey, PGA commissioner, said players would receive one-half of their prizes and that checks were to be mailed to the players Tuesday night.

Dey said that during Sunday's final round the "sponsor notified the Tournament Players Division that the sponsor would not be in a position to pay the prize money. Since then, the Tournament Players Division has made unavailing efforts to learn the sponsors intention."

The players division, Dey said, has retained the legal counsel of Nathan B. Goodnow of Detroit to seek recovery of the prize money in the players' behalf.

Dey also announced that the Robinson Open Golf Classic, through its general chairman, Richard Heath, has offered to assist the players in making up part of any deficiency. The Robinson tournament will be held Sept. 25-28 at Robinson, Ill.

Dey said no action in regard to this offer had been taken.

Minkebig, Benson Share Honors in FVGC Twilight Loop

KAUKAUNA — Jim Minkebig and Pete Benson fired under-par 35s to share honors in the Fox Valley Golf Club Twilight League competition.

Jerry Hieting hit even par. Scores of 37 were posted by Omar Wolgram, Tom Hanby, Dick Quella and Gary Versteegen. Royal Clothing took over first place in the Acushnet Division with 174 points, Hyland House held first, with 164 points, in the First Flight Division.

Moved to Safety
Hilger's shift to defensive halfback and veteran tight end Frank Reindl's move to safety have been designed to stop those leaks. Steve Danen has jumped into the tight end position and is considered a better pass receiver than Reindl. Jim Beaver, a converted quarterback, is the new split end, succeeding the brilliant but graduated Jim Schleich.

Leading the interior line is center Ted Fritsch Jr., son of the ex-Green Bay Packer blaster. All of which sounds promising except for those guard positions and a distinct lack of depth.

and Deters has already been injured and sidelined for at least three weeks.

Despite this problem and the almost daily shifting of positions to try to solve it, Kolstad feels the Knights' prospects "don't look too bad." That is about as optimistic as he ever gets despite a lifetime record of 53-23-5 and no losing seasons in his 9-year career with the Knights.

Twenty-three returning lettermen have provided the basis for that outlook and only a particularly rugged schedule, beginning with the opener at St. Thomas College in St. Paul Saturday, clouds the picture.

The Knights' opponents also includes the likes of Whitewater State, La Crosse State and River Falls State, Northern Michigan University, St. Cloud State of Minnesota, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Hillsdale of Michigan and Southwestern Louisiana.

Lauded Backfield
Among the monogrammers is Capt. Dick Hilger, an Antigo senior who began the year as part of that lauded backfield but who has now been switched to defense as part of a series of moves to plug the guard hole.

That leaves Larry Krause and Jim Maier as the running tandem and what a set of torpedoes that is. Krause gained 890 yards for a 5.7 average last year and Maier gained 803 yards for a 5.4 average. Both are also fine blockers and pass receivers. Hilger, ill much of last season, nevertheless averaged 5.9 yards per carry in limited duty and Kolstad may still use him offensively because his addition to the backfield would allow a versatile, multiple formation attack.

Steve Wilmet, who set most of the school's passing records over the past three years, gave up his final year of eligibility to sign a bonus contract as a pitcher in the Los Angeles Dodgers chain. That leaves Joe Kretz, who has understudied Wilmet for three years, as the signal-caller, and Kolstad professes that he has no doubts about Kretz's ability.

Quicker on Feet
"He doesn't have the arm Wilmet had but he is quicker on his feet and he runs the team well," Kolstad said. The other strong spot in the Knight lineup is the defensive line, which is a veteran unit consisting of ends Mike Teff, 250 pounds, and Dick Makowski, 235, and tackles Pat Houlton, 255, and Pete Vercauteren, 230. This group, with solid backing from Chuck Holznacht and Ron Blaha, allowed only two touchdowns by rushing last year. But the secondary leaked three key touchdowns by air, letting Whitewater gain a last second tie, Hillsdale a last second victory and UW-M a triumph.

The Death of Senator Dirksen

The harsher critics of Sen. Everett Dirksen were fond of totaling up the number of times he had changed his mind on his position on important topics during his long legislative career. But inconsistency never bothered Dirksen nor did his critics. Dirksen liked to say that being a senator and a party leader required making a judgment on what was best for the country when the roll was being called.

Thus, in 1964 in what many call Dirksen's finest hour, he surprised a lot of Republicans by voting for a sweeping civil rights act and for the nuclear test ban treaty, programs which had reached the Senate from Democratic Presidents John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson.

"One of my age thinks about his destiny a little. I should not like to have written on my tombstone, 'he knew what hapened at Hiroshima, but he did not take a first step'."

Yet, a few months later in San Francisco, Dirksen could turn around to deliver the presidential nominating speech for Sen. Barry Goldwater, who had voted against the civil rights bill and the treaty. It was the speech in which Dirksen described how Goldwater had risen to his high place from being a "peddler's son," a speech which set a standard in telling the American story or in pure corn, depending upon how the listener appraised Dirksen's individualized style of oratory.

The Struggle for Power in Hanoi

One of the many weaknesses of strong man rule, whatever the ideology, is the power struggle that comes with the death of the dictator or his removal from power. North Vietnam is no exception, although the angling for control may be somewhat more subdued than has happened in some other countries.

Reportedly, although Ho Chi Minh was the undisputed national and Communist party leader in North Vietnam, he sought the advice and participation in decision making of a number of his associates. Reportedly, too, there were considerable differences of opinion among them. Le Duan, the number two man in the Politburo, disagreed with the decision to agree to the Paris negotiations and wanted to continue the fighting and he probably was backed by General Vo Nguyen Giap, head of the armed forces. Mr. Duan also leaned toward the Soviet Union in that country's dispute with China.

The Number three man is Truong Chinh, once demoted because of his failures more than ten years ago to effect land reform programs without arousing the

It is ironic that the Senator's death came at time when he could exercise the greatest power in his role as Republican leader in the Senate because of the return of his party to the White House. In their own ways, President Nixon with his emphasis on reasoned and calm presentation of executive recommendations, and Dirksen with his belief in gaining what could be accomplished politically, were marching step by step together. But history will reward high marks for Dirksen as minority leader and for his concept of the responsibilities of the loyal opposition during the terms of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

Dirksen has been described as the last of his kind in the Senate. His style has been replaced by ghost writers, public opinion polls, and all the rest.

In his later years, Dirksen had made commercial recordings of historical and patriotic readings. He may have been fulfilling a boyhood ambition to be an actor, though some said he had already done this on the Senate floor. It is more probable, however, that he was trying to leave his convictions about what the United States is all about at a time when its institutions are being challenged.

The Senate Republicans will choose a new leader. The leadership may operate with more precision. But it will be far less colorful and exciting.

violent opposition of many North Vietnamese peasants. However, Mr. Chinh has slowly regained influence. He is supposed to have had a long-time bitter personal feud with General Giap and to favor more accommodation with China.

Most close observers predict that the struggle for power will be a rather quiet one with the management of North Vietnamese affairs a collective one for some time to come. Under Ho, the Hanoi regime kept itself as clear as possible from taking sides in the Soviet-Chinese rift while encouraging both countries to send military and economic aid. With a split among the current leaders, the policy is likely to continue. If Mr. Duan gains the upper hand eventually, the Paris negotiations probably will not be worth much anymore. If Mr. Chinh comes out on top, he may lean toward de-escalation of the war while forging closer ties with China, a seeming contradiction but not necessarily so in the many sides of Asian politics.

Ho Chih Minh's major idea was independence for Vietnam. His successors are not likely to toss that aim away.

A Full-Time Family Court Commissioner

A county board committee has taken a first, most important step toward a more humane divorce system in Outagamie County.

Late last week the committee recommended that the family court commissioner's job be made full-time and that his office be given adequate secretarial services.

These recommendations have been made before, but they have received little attention. Now they must receive action if we are to expect the family court commissioner to do his whole job well.

The hue and cry from social workers, divorced women who want to get off the welfare rolls and mothers concerned about the well-being of their children ought to prove that the system for enforcing support orders in this county is a shameful failure. The limitations now placed on the family court commissioner's position are part of the reason.

Under the Wisconsin Family Code the family court commissioner is a key figure in the divorce process. He has responsibility not only to attempt reconciliations, but also to insure that orders of the family court (or divorce court) are carried out, including support orders.

commissioner simply does not have time to enforce support orders. On his salary of $6,000 he cannot afford to spend the necessary time to investigate complaints from divorced mothers, locate the fathers and take legal steps to collect overdue payments.

Some people — including County Judge Urban Van Susteren — also feel the commissioner cannot fulfill his job of reconciliation. The judge says it is too late by the time the troubled couple's case gets to the commissioner. But a full-time commissioner could do something to solve that problem too.

More time and resources would allow him to see couples even before they start divorce proceedings. Attorneys could refer men and women to the family court commissioner before drawing up the divorce papers. That is the best time to attempt reconciliation.

Brown County has had a family court commissioner for nine years. His record of reconciliation both before and after divorce proceedings have been started is impressive. So is his record of collecting support payments. Yet the Brown County commissioner is the first to concede that a part-time man cannot do the job in a county the size of Outagamie.

'Plan to Make Pound Governor!

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Sept. 18, 1869.

A strong movement has been initiated to have Governor Lucius Fairchild appointed Secretary of War with a reasonable prospect of success.

The appointment is supposed to be made in January.

Thus if the Jacobins succeed in this move, they propose to make Mr. Pound our next Governor!

The hundreds upon hundreds of moral Republicans who made up their minds to contenting themselves with cutting Pound's name from their tickets will at once see the importance of inserting instead the name of Capt. Gilbert L. Park, one of the best and noblest men in the State, a Democrat in whom there is no guile.

Nixon's Southern Strategy Aims To Bring Wallace States Into GOP

BY JOHN P. ROCHE
WASHINGTON — As Congressmen, politicians, lobbyists, and journalists reassemble for the fall season, the Democrats seem — if possible — more atomized than the Republicans. When I am told, for example, that Nixon has infuriated the blacks, I simply inquire how many votes has he lost? Moreover, I have yet to find anybody at one of these sessions who voted for Nixon in 1968 and will vote Democratic in 1972 — nobody voted for him in 1968.

President Nixon has been

consolidating that 57 per cent in extremely effective fashion. If George Wallace can be disposed of, Democratic nominees for President can rack up 43, or even 49, per cent of the votes for the rest of the 20th Century and never set foot in the White House. Wallace's only excuse for living, in political terms, was to stimulate resistance to federal liberalism. Mr. Nixon's "Southern strategy" is cannily designed to bring the Wallace states (which were Goldwater states) back into the big GOP tent.

WHISTLING UP A WIND

As the President quietly consolidates his mandate, the Democrats are busy trying to whistle up a wind I have gone to six or seven meetings and everywhere found the same atmosphere of simulated jubilation. There is a kind of group therapy aspect to it. A says "Nixon really killed himself with that Haynsworth nomination." B agrees and adds that the Negroes are furious about the Administration's neglect of urban problems. C, bubbling with good cheer, notes that the President has alienated the young and that Vietnam will bring him down. This can go on for hours, with all hands finally reaching a crescendo of consensus: "Everyone is against Nixon!"

In politics (as elsewhere) the critical sign of intellectual bankruptcy is when one begins to believe his own press releases. As I go from one of these victory parties to another, I keep asking the same questions. When I am told, for example, that Nixon has infuriated the blacks, I simply inquire how many votes has he lost? Moreover, I have yet to find anybody at one of these sessions who voted for Nixon in 1968 and will vote Democratic in 1972 — nobody voted for him in 1968.

To say this is not to suggest that Kevin Phillips is correct when he asserts that structural factors in American politics are creating a permanent Republican majority. (His interesting book, "The Emerging Republican Majority," is reserved for separate treatment.) But it is clear to me that in September, 1969, the GOP is riding high. And if the liberal Democrats remain in their optimistic trance, we are in great danger of being clobbered in the Congressional elections next year.

VIETNAM CASE IN POINT

Take Vietnam as a case in point. The conventional wisdom seems to be that "time is running out on Nixon," that if he hasn't liquidated our commitment by 1972 (at the latest), he is a dead political duck. Excluding the merits of Vietnam from consideration (that is, whether you agree or disagree with our policy there), the question is how can Vietnam hurt Nixon? How can any Democrat, particularly a liberal, object? All the President has to do is start quoting Presidents Kennedy and Johnson and ask the American people what right any Democrat has even to talk about Vietnam.

The place where the Republicans can really be hurt is the economy. A major recession would dispose of Phillips' "emerging Republican majority" faster than the Black Death. However, whatever Democratic advantage might result, we all have a vital interest in forestalling economic disaster. There are some Republican zealots who think that the way to stop inflation is to add a million or two to the unemployed, but sober minds (recalling 1958) will probably keep that scenario in a maximum security safe.

In short, the Democrats are in deep, deep trouble, which is compounded by a leadership vacuum. Whatever the issues may be, and however they may break, you still can't beat somebody with nobody. I shall explore this leadership crisis at a later date.

Corporation Not Needed To Improve Postal Service

Editor, The Post-Crescent.

The Tuesday, September 2, issue of The Post-Crescent carried an editorial which stated the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO, were, "asking for their cake and wanting to eat it too," because of their opposition to the postal corporation plan. The editorial states "the chief reason the NALC opposed the corporation plan is that the postal workers would presumably lose their civil service status."

Under the postal corporation plan the postal employees would be removed from the Civil Service Act. They would be required to bargain collectively for wages, fringe benefits and other basic rights previously obtained by legislation. Bargaining would be subject to the provisions of the Taft-Hartley and Landrum-Griffin Acts except for the one vital protection guaranteed their brothers in the private sector, the right to strike. They would also be denied the right of invoking compulsory and binding arbitration. Arbitration would only be available if management agreed.

This leaves them in the same type of situation as the

285 Co-ops in State Form One Federation; Program Is Outlined

Wisconsin farmers have long been among the leaders in the nation in cooperative organization. Glenn N. Anderson, Madison guest columnist today, is the executive secretary of the first consolidated association of Wisconsin cooperatives that was completed recently.

By GLENN N. ANDERSON
MADISON — Cooperation among cooperatives reached a new high when in June 285 Wisconsin cooperatives voted to form the Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives. The parent organizations of the new federation were the Wisconsin Association of Cooperatives and the Wisconsin Council of Agricultural Cooperatives, both with long histories of service.

The Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives is designed to give the cooperatives the much needed political and economic strength, essential for growth and development. The federation membership accounts for a major part of the nearly $2 billion worth of business done by cooperative and mutual enterprise in the state. Every facet of coopera-

Representation and control is based on both geography and function. The state is divided into eight districts with each district having one director. The elections at the district level are conducted on the basis of one vote for each member organization. Eleven additional directors are elected by function; marketing with five, purchasing with three, and service with three. These 11 directors are elected at the annual meeting by delegates representing member organizations. The first district meetings are set for November, and the first annual meeting will be held in January 1970.

PLAN 19-MAN BOARD

A temporary board of 16 is serving until the new 19-man board is elected. The first officers of the Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives are: Leonard A. Peck, Chippewa Falls, president; Melvin Sprecher, Sauk City, vice president; John Groenier, Iola, secretary; Ernst Averbeck, Fond du Lac, treasurer; and G. Willys Gjermundson, Madison, executive committee member.

While the federation was formed via a melting process of two "old" organizations, its future strength will, in large measure, be determined by how successfully it can develop a program and image of its own. This will be undertaken by using every opportunity to meet the needs of cooperative business enterprise. The federation, in its program of service, now aims to:

Expand and improve education in our schools and colleges about co-ops.

Help improve co-ops' community business relations by enhancing specific member needs.

tive-type enterprise is in the new state cooperative trade federation.

MAJOR PURPOSES LISTED

Basically the federation seeks to: (1) improve, foster, and promote the better understanding of the principles and practices of cooperatives; (2) do all things necessary for the advancement of cooperatives; (3) promote the interests of the members of the cooperatives; (4) foster and promote further growth and strengthening of cooperatives.

The federation has a combination of elements in its membership control which makes it unique among the 38 similar state organizations of cooperatives. This structure permits meaningful representation and a voice for all segments of Wisconsin's cooperative business enterprise.

Becomes Fanatic in Search for an Ascot

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

When Santayana defined a "fanatic" as a man "who redoubles his efforts after he has forgotten his aim," he was making more than a pretty epigram. He was uttering the doleful truth about the human animal.

Late yesterday afternoon, I decided to run down to the store to buy some lemons. Because I had a cold, and was lounging at home in slacks and a sport shirt, I thought I'd wrap an old Ascot tie around my neck instead of donning a conventional necktie.

I looked in the proper drawer, and the ascot was missing. Then I looked in all the drawers of my dresser, with equally unsuccessful results. By this time, my blood was up.

With an utterly fanatical gleam in my eye, I ransacked the apartment from stem to stern. I opened all the suitcases, as well as the big boxes on the top shelf of the guest closet, where our summer things are stored.

I burrowed through the

laundry hamper. I delved into (may the Lord forgive me) my wife's "intimate" garments. I leafed through all the papers in my desk. I searched in the most improbable places — including, ultimately, the garbage can on the back porch.

After the first quarter hour of this concentrated hunt, I had wholly forgotten the trip to the store, the lemons, my cold, and my original reason for preferring the ascot to a four-in-hand.

I was transformed into a crusader for a cause, a knight charging after dragons — and a fool in hot pursuit of a piece of cloth I really didn't want at all.

In commenting on the bitter religious wars in the 16th Century, Montaigne makes the same point on a grander scale. The frenzied search for heretics and nonconformists totally obliterated the moral common decency.

Whether we are in avid pursuit of a tie, a Huguenot or a Communist, it is dangerous so emotionally involved in the quest that we lose our perspective, our humor and our humanity. To do this is to subvert our goals more fatally than our enemies could ever accomplish.

Hungarian Freedom Fighters; the other side has all the big guns, an impossible situation for negotiations. Also, the postal employees would still be covered under the Hatch Act which curtails the political activities of federal employees covered under the Act. It is obvious that under the corporation plan, postal employees would be in a never-never land, no civil service workers and not guaranteed the rights of the workers in the private sector.

Postal reform is necessary but to achieve the necessary changes it is not required the postal service become a corporation. H. R. 4, the Dulski Postal Reform Bill, will solve the problem without a corporation. It is foolish to throw out the baby because the diapers need changing.

No One Survives Indiana Crash;
Small Craft's Pilot Was Soloing

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Flying. He had been doing it for years just for his own pleasure. This past year he was working to get his license. He didn't plan to buy a plane right away, but maybe sometime.

The family moved to Indianapolis from Manchester, N.H., a year ago.

The crew members who perished with 78 passengers were identified by Allegheny as Capt. James M. Elrod, 47, Plainfield, Ind., First Officer William E. Heckendorn, 26, Pittsburgh, and two stewardesses, Patricia Perry of Lynn, Mass., and Barbara Petrucick of Boston.

student pilot, 35-year-old Robert W. Carey, knocked the tail off the Allegheny Airlines jetliner as the larger plane approached Weir-Cook Municipal Airport Tuesday.

All 78 passengers and the crew of four on the jetliner, as well as Carey, an Indianapolis plumber and father of six, were killed.

The jetliner, which began its flight at Boston, had touched down at Baltimore and Cincinnati and was scheduled to stop at the Indianapolis airport before going on to St. Louis.

"Inconceivable"

"It was near perfect weather," said John Shaffer, one of a team of 16 investigators from the Federal Aviation Administration. "It's almost inconceivable that the two planes were at the same spot at the same time."

The aerial collision occurred near London, a community of 300 about 10 miles southeast of Indianapolis.

Most of the wreckage of the DC9 airliner landed in a soybean field 100 yards from a mobile home park where many of the 150 residents watched with terror as the severed fuselage of the jet whistled toward them.

Bodies, wreckage and luggage fell from the sky.

About 500 policemen and a 16-man team of federal investigators combed the field today for remnants of the disaster.

Airport controllers said the jet disappeared from a radar screen as it dropped from 6,000 feet to 2,500 feet in its landing approach.

"Loved Flying"

Carey had taken off from nearby McCordville on a 50-mile training flight to Columbus, Ind.

His wife, sobbing as she spoke to newsmen, said "He loved

Gerda Only Brushes U.S. Coast

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Hurricane Gerda moved inland over Quebec province today after lashing the Canadian Maritime provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia with rain and winds of up to 80 miles an hour and causing damage that so far appeared to be minor.

As she barreled up the Atlantic coast Tuesday, Gerda brushed New England with 50 m.p.h. winds before moving over Grand Manan Island, off the southwest coast of New Brunswick. Four inches of rain fell in Portland, Maine, and two inches at Eastport. But the center of the storm did not hit the U.S. coast.

Nova Scotia's south shore bore the brunt of the storm, which tore down telephone and power lines, uprooted trees and disrupted shipping and airline schedules.

Talks Due Friday U.S. Seeking To Close Rift

SAIGON (AP) — Meetings to troops, which would reduce American troop strength in the South Vietnamese officials. Acting U.S. Ambassador Samuel D. Berger also met separately and an extended scaling with Thieu.

There was also speculation that the United States had sounded out North Vietnam about continuing the three-day cease-fire the Viet Cong declared for the funeral of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

The cease-fire, which U.S. forces honored, was scheduled to expire at 1 a.m. Thursday, or noon CDT today.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, met with President Nguyen Van Thieu before flying to Washington for the conference that President Nixon will hold Friday with his top military and diplomatic advisers on Vietnam.

Unconfirmed reports said Abrams is prepared to accept withdrawal of 35,000 more

As evidence of the rift between the United States and its Vietnamese ally, field reports said the U.S. Command was refusing to provide helicopters, artillery and bombers to support some of the South Vietnamese operations that continued despite the cease-fire.

But again only scattered light action was reported across the country.

3 Per Cent
'General' levy Asked

BY TIM WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Several Republican lawmakers, stung by what one of them termed "tremendous pressure from irked taxpayers," have introduced legislation to replace the 4 per cent broadened sales tax which went into effect Sept. 1 with a general 3 per cent sales tax.

Led by a majority of the power legislative Joint Committee on Finance, the lawmakers Tuesday introduced the 3 per cent sales tax bill in a skeleton session of the state Senate.

A spokesman for the 11 authors, Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, said the new tax measure would strike down the 4 per cent tax which exempts most food and prescription drugs and replace it with a general 3 per cent levy which would tax those and virtually all other retail sales in the state — but award an $8 credit refund to every resident of Wisconsin.

The $8 refund, calculated to represent the $267 a 3 per cent sales tax would collect from the food and drug purchases of an average person, would be entered as a tax deduction on the annual state income tax forms, and could result in refunds for some low-income taxpayers.

Hollander said the new tax bill was a direct result of "tremendous pressure from irked taxpayers" on the 11 GOP lawmakers and all of their Republican colleagues. No Democrat voted for the budget-tax bill finally passed after a deep division in Republican ranks for seven months of the spring session of the legislature.

Hollander said the exact revenue-raising ability of the new tax package the GOP contingent is proposing has not yet been calculated, but that it is expected to be "two or three million dollars more" than the $263.5 million the 4 per cent general sales tax is expected to add to state revenues.

Predicts Approval

Hollander predicted speedy approval of the GOP substitute tax package from a special finance committee session scheduled Sept. 26, and passage of the bill by the Senate.

But he would not make any predictions on its expected fate in the Assembly, which is controlled by conservative Republicans who forced the upper house into a budget-tax compromise far below the spending levels proposed by Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles and the Senate.

The 4 per cent sales tax was a result of deliberations in the GOP Assembly caucus.

Knowles had proposed a 3 per

Lunar Rocks Reveal: Earth, Moon Are Same Age

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The moon went through violent and torrid pains of birth and early infancy about the same time as the Earth, but then it died and became "a very quiet, peaceful place," scientists at the Lunar Receiving Laboratory believe.

This conclusion, based on examinations of rocks and dust returned to Earth by Apollo 11, was revealed in interviews as the scientists prepared to release some of the lunar material Friday to other scientists for further study.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will officially announce its findings on the moon rock at a Washington news conference Monday.

Here are the key things scientists at the Manned Space Center say they have learned from Apollo 11.

—There is no evidence there is life on the moon.

—Exhaustive tests exposing the lunar material to Earthly life forms—plants, fish, mice, birds and, accidentally, man himself—produced no evidence of moon pathogens or germs existing in the soil. Nor has the soil been shown to have a toxic effect on Earth creatures.

—Examination of the rocks

and dust show the moon to have been molten about the same time as the Earth, about three billion years ago.

—The moon heated up after its formation, as did the Earth, and was a glob of molten rock. But while the Earth continued to evolve and bring forth life, the moon—after 500 million years—effect died.

The Apollo 11 mission failed to still the hot debate among scientists about the origin of the moon.

Before the flight there were three theories: the moon was thrown into orbit from the Pacific Ocean area of the Earth; it is a sister planet formed at the same time and in the same manner as the Earth; it was formed elsewhere in the solar system and became a captive of the Earth's gravitational field.

Examination of the Apollo 11 samples failed to confirm or contradict any of the theories.

Studies of the rocks gave no promise of any immediate economic benefit for mankind, and no indication of life on the moon. Organic matter, which can come from a life form, was measured at "from dead zero to one part per million" in the Apollo 11 samples, a scientist said. There is some question that even this minute amount may have come from the handling of the rocks and not from the moon.

Dr. W. W. Klemm, chief of preventative medicine of the Lunar Receiving Laboratory, said there was "no indication of abnormalities" in the lunar soil and no reason to believe it hazardous to man or his environment.

Scientists were surprised at the number of meteorites constantly sprinkling the surface of the moon. The frequency of these hits was larger than expected, but no conclusions have been drawn as yet.

Dr. Robin Brett, a member of the preliminary examination team of scientists at the NASA lab, said the top surfaces of the rocks were also hit by "whopping great doses of solar wind," the radiation boiled away from the sun.

Dr. Oliver Schaeffer of the State University of New York at Stony Brook used an atomic dating device to establish the age of the rocks.

The rocks contain potassium and argon elements. The potassium element decays to become the argon element. By measuring the ratio of the potassium element, which decays at a known rate, and the argon element, an atomic calendar is formed.

This system gives the approximate date that the rocks crystallized from the molten state. Schaeffer put the date at from 2.3 to 3.7 billion years ago, which is about the same as the oldest rocks measured on Earth.

The rocks from Tranquility Base are like nothing ever examined on Earth.

They contain many of the elements with high boiling points, such as titanium, zirconium and chromium, and very little of the elements with low boiling points, such as lead, potassium and sodium.

"This gives you a rock that's unlike any meteorites, unlike any Earth rock of igneous origin," said Brett. "It's just a very oddball type of rock. We don't really understand how it formed at all."

Brett and the other members of the team have pieced together this story of the moon.

• The moon is believed to have been formed 4.5 billion years ago at the same time as the Earth and the rest of the solar system.

• During the next 500 mil-

'Just Sitting There'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — One of the rocks that Neil A. Armstrong picked up on the moon had been at Tranquility Base for a long time.

The rock had been "sitting on the surface, just sitting there, as a rock for 150 million years," says Dr. Robin Brett, a member of the scientific team that examined rocks returned on the Apollo 11 flight.

The rock hardened from a molten state about three billion years ago, he said, and probably was blasted from the moon's bedrock by the impact of a meteor miles away.

"When this rock first got on the moon's surface, dinosaurs roamed over North America," Brett said.

On the Earth since, he said, "there have been mountain ranges formed and partly eroded away, the seas came in covering vast areas and then went out again. All through that time, this one little rock had just been sitting there with no action whatsoever."

Dirksen's Son-in-Law

Baker in Race for Senate GOP Leadership

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee is said to be receiving substantial support as a prospective candidate for the Senate Republican leadership left vacant by the death of Everett M. Dirksen, his father-in-law.

Senate GOP liberals have met privately to map their campaign for Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, party whip and now the acting GOP leader.

One GOP senator said the still undeclared leadership race is now a three-man affair—Baker, Scott and conservative Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska.

That assessment discounted Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado who is known to be interested in seeking the post.

Other sources said the arithmetic of available votes might eventually cause Hruska to decide against declared candidacy.

"What you are seeing now is a movement to Baker," said one Republican senator with unmatched conservative credentials.

Baker is considered a middle-of-the-road Republican likely to prove acceptable to both wings of the party.

The more liberal Republicans remain firmly aligned with Scott. Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, for example, said he felt a commitment to Scott.

But some senators now counted in the Scott camp indicated Baker would be an acceptable alternative.

Sen. Marlow Cook of Kentucky said he would face a perplexing choice if the contest were reduced to Scott and Baker. The Tennessee senator campaigned for Cook a year ago.

One problem: Baker is midway through his first term in a Senate still dedicated to seniority rule. He is 43. Some Senate veterans bristled at the idea of a first-term mover for the top spot. But other Republicans said the party should turn to a younger man and a new face.

Seymour Youth Sent to State School for Boys

A 14-year-old Seymour boy who had been under the custody of the Outagamie County Department of Social Services, was sent to the State School for Boys at Wales Monday on order of Acting Juvenile Court Judge Nick F. Schaefer.

Schaefer placed the youth in the custody of the State Department of Health and Social Services until he is 21.

The county department had gotten custody of the youth last Oct. 28, after he was in Juvenile Court here as an alleged neglected child. Authorities at that time said he had become uncontrollable.

The boy, after being placed in the custody of the county agency, was sent to a children's home in Racine. He reportedly ran away from the home five times.

He then was placed in a Clintonville foster home, and ran away from there Aug. 13. The petition on which he appeared in court Monday also charged him with stealing a will be followed by coffee and social hour.

50 Per Cent Over Capacity

State School at Wales Reports New Program Despite Crowding

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Peak population totals at the State School for Boys at Wales have ranged up to 50 per cent above rated capacity for the institution for the past two years, the state Board of Health and Social Services has been told.

In a report prepared for the state board which meets at the facility today, its superintendent, Roland C. Hershman, said that the highest population hit by the institution in 1962 was 50 per cent higher than the facility was built to hold.

And in 1963, said Hershman, the peak population was 40 per cent higher than the rated capacity of the correctional school.

High points for both years came in May, he told the state board, which meets at its institutions throughout the state in an attempt to get a closer look at problems and progress in the massive system.

State correctional officials for several years have warned of severe overcrowding in institutions constructed for youths, and say that a prime result is the forced release of youths before correctional programs can effectively aid them.

Several additional institutions are on the drawing boards or under construction for the youth program.

Hershman told the board that despite the overcrowding, a number of new programs have been started at the school during the past two years which show promising results.

The superintendent reported that the peak population in 1962 hit 527, and the high point in 1963 was 482 boys.

He added that in 10 of the 12 months of fiscal year 1962 the population of the school exceeded the rated capacity, and that the rated capacity was exceeded in 11 of the 12 months in the 1962 calendar year.

Hershman told the board that among new programs started are:

— Specialized training for the staff in the world of drugs, reactions to drugs on users, and drug detection. The increasing number of commitments stemming from drug offenses makes the training necessary, he said.

— Specialized training in auto mechanics for boys found to be too knowledgeable in the field for useful work in the regular auto mechanics program offered at the school. The training is offered without cost by the General Motors Institute, said Hershman.

— Bussing of some boys to their homes in the Milwaukee area during the spring season, to avoid problem of overcrowding that regularly afflicts the institution at that time of year.

The boys live at home, but attend school at the institution.

— Experimental programs in training courses in plastics and photography, which show promise for vocational training program development.

Indian Youths

— Specialized programs for Indian youths, who, Hershman reported, generally have very little knowledge of their heritage and culture, and who usually have extremely poor self-images. The boys talk with authorities on Indian history, visit museums and cultural centers to study Indian art objects, and are helped "to develop social poise and to feel more comfortable and confident in an integrated society," said Hershman.

CLINTONVILLE — The regular meeting of the American Legion will be at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Chuck Krueger will present a film on bow hunters. The door prize will be a certificate for merchandise from Krueger Hardware.

At the last regular meeting, it was voted to raise the post dues after Nov. 11. All members paying their dues before Nov. 11 will be charged old rate of $6. The new rate will be $10; however, those 65 years of age or over will pay annual dues of $8.

Harold Laatsch, vice commander, and his member ship enlistment team will try to contact all members belonging to the post before Nov. 11. To aid them, it is requested that members bring their dues to the meeting Thursday night. The aerial round-up is Oct. 12 at Marshfield.

The Legion notes that September is American Patriotism Month, with Sept. 17 as Constitution and Citizenship Day and the American Flag is to be flown that day.

Seminars on race relations, which have led to special efforts on the part of black staff members and selected black youths in the institution, to develop means of aiding youths in the facility.

Youth Given Probation

Mark Boehm, Neenah, Guilty of Selling Marijuana

OSHKOSH — Mark Boehm, 20, 117 Hazel St., Neenah, was placed on probation for three years, Tuesday, by Winnebago County Court Judge James V. Sitter. Boehm had been found guilty in a jury trial of possession and sale of marijuana.

The offense occurred in December at a teen-age beer bar in the Town of Menasha, according to police, who arrested Boehm during an investigation in January.

A condition of his probation, Sitter said, is that Boehm pay court costs of more than $200.

Sitter concurred with the findings of a pre-sentence investigation conducted by the State Department of Health and Social Services that neither Boehm nor society would benefit if the youth were imprisoned.

Sitter noted that other than the marijuana charge and one minor traffic violation, Boehm has a clear record.

"It seems that he got involved with the freak segment at the university," Sitter said.

Supervision Ordered for Teen-Age Girl

Six months' supervision was ordered Monday for a 16-year-old Appleton girl who, along with her boyfriend, took an LSD pill Aug. 22.

Judge Nick F. Schaefer, acting Juvenile Court judge, withheld a delinquency finding against the girl and ordered supervision to the Outagamie County Department of Social Services.

It was the first time the girl had appeared in Juvenile Court. She was charged with possessing a dangerous drug.

A 19-year-old Appleton youth who furnished the girl with the LSD pill was placed on two years probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services Aug. 26 after he pleaded guilty of possessing a dangerous drug.

He and the girl each took an LSD pill the night of Aug. 22. The girl later was taken to a hospital after becoming ill. The boy turned himself in to police early Aug. 23.

The youth reportedly had purchased the two pills for $4 each.

Through this plan they will receive most of their academic studies in the special education program, but will benefit by association with students their own age without having to compete with them on an academic level, it was pointed out.

Judge's Son Critically Hurt In Vietnam

Thomas Dohr, 19, Wounded in Arm, Right Temple, Nose

The 19-year-old son of Outagamie County Juvenile Court Judge and Mrs. Raymond P. Dohr, 1309 Alicia Drive, Appleton, has been critically wounded in Vietnam fighting, his parents learned this week.

Army Pfc. Thomas Dohr, a 1963 graduate of Xavier High School, received mortar fragmentation wounds Sept. 5 to the right temple and right arm and nose and has been placed on the "very seriously ill list," a Department of Defense telegram informed his parents.

Dohr said his son is being treated in a hospital outside of Saigon, according to sources he contacted in Washington. The sources are seeking information for him but have nothing further at this time on his son's condition, he added.

The soldier, who has been in Vietnam only six weeks, apparently was guarding an artillery position near the Cambodian border about 30 miles northwest of Saigon, Dohr said. He is with the 25th Infantry.

Young Dohr enlisted in the Army seven months ago.

Investigation of SBA Loans by FBI Proposed

Charges Made During District Court Trial Of Proxmire Aide

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Government witnesses complained Tuesday that the road to a Small Business Administration loan is costly and frustrating, and that even the FBI should investigate the matter.

The comments were made by construction contractors during the second day of the U.S. District Court trial of Luther A. Dyb, who is accused of accepting $750 to help with an SBA loan while he was home secretary for Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

An Appleton pipeline contractor, Gwyn J. Johnson, and a Green Bay excavation contractor, Farrell W. Nuss, said they had trouble getting personnel in SBA's Madison office to listen to their pleas for financial assistance.

Time, Patience

Nuss said he lost time and patience "for all the running around they put you through."

Later, he said, he turned to Dyb for help and that "Dyb said if expenses were paid, the application would not lay on this desk or that desk in Washington."

Dyb, 44, who quit working for Proxmire in 1968, is charged with unlawfully accepting $750 while a government employee in 1967.

Johnson said Proxmire's office had encouraged constituents to seek help with SBA loans.

James E. Thiel New Fireman

James E. Thiel, 24, 308½ E. Harrison St., started work this week as the newest member of the Appleton Fire Department. Thiel, hired to fill a vacancy, worked at Fox River Paper

Corp. since his release from the Marines in September 1966. He had served in the Marine Corps since May 1962, seeing some overseas duty.

Thiel is married and has one child. His hiring brings the fire department up to the full 104-member strength, according to officials.

The Madison office of the SBA, Johnson testified, while "five loans have been made in our area, and the people are all ready out of business."

The SBA attitude toward what constitutes a safe investment for a loan ought to be studied, Johnson said.

If the FBI is "going to investigate, it ought to be the Madison office and Proxmire," he said. "The SBA needs investigation as much as anybody."

Johnson testified he made no statement to the FBI concerning the Dyb case.

Turned Down

Nuss, whose application for a $90,000 loan was turned down by the SBA after $750 was allegedly turned over to Dyb, testified he had arranged to get money to Dyb while loan papers were being readied.

After he didn't get the loan, Nuss wrote the SBA's Washington office, and an FBI investigation followed.

Johnson also discussed answers he gave an attorney whom Proxmire assigned to investigate the matter.

He told the court he did not recall having referred to Dyb "as a crook."

Nuss said he had never accused Dyb of wrongdoing.

Proposals Discussed in Hearing Martin Bill Requires Students to Remain in School Until They're 18

MADISON — All school children in the state should be required to stay in school until the age of 18 and an interchange program with vocational schools should be created to provide for their education until that age, Assembly David O. Martin, R-Neenah, said Tuesday.

Testifying to the Assembly education committee in behalf of a bill he authored, Martin urged that a state law be wiped out which allows some students to drop out of school at the age of 16.

The committee was told that because of quirks in the vocational school districting law passed in 1955, students in the city of Neenah can drop out of school at the age of 16.

Legislative Intent

Martin said that it was clearly the intent of the 1965 Legislature that students be required to attend school until the age of 18.

George Tipler, head of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards, told the committee, however, that because day classes are not offered the Neenah Vocational School, students in that city can drop out of school at 16 under the existing law.

Martin said that the bill he co-authored with Assemblyman Stanley York, R-River Falls, is designed to close loopholes in the vocational education law and to avoid costly duplication of efforts between vocational and high schools — while assuring that vocational education is available to high school students throughout the state.

His bill would require that all students in the state remain in school, unless already graduated from high school, until the age of 18.

At the age of 16, with the approval of parents or guardian and the school district, a student could transfer to a vocational school located within 30 miles of his high school district for education there.

The high school district would be required to pay the vocational school for the costs of the student's education, and the student, with the approval of his school district, could receive a diploma upon graduation from his original high school.

Under existing law, students who live within the borders of a school district, which has offered within it a daytime vocational school program, must remain in school until the age of 18 or graduation.

If there is not such a program within the district, a student may drop out of school at the age of 16.

Under Martin's bill, students who did not live in a school district located within 30 miles of such a vocational school program, would be required to stay in high school until the age of 18.

'Logical Step'

York told the education committee that the bill is "the next logical step in vocational education."

Aim of the bill, York said, is an attempt "to say that vocational

Youth Jailed For Writing Bad Checks

8-Month Sentence For David Bublitz, 19, of Appleton

An eight-months jail sentence was ordered Tuesday for a 19-year-old youth who authorities said passed 47 worthless checks, totaling $1,319.45 in Outagamie and Winnebago counties within the past year.

David Bublitz, 407 N. Oneida St., pleaded guilty of issuing bogus checks last December at Doering's Super-Valu super market in Kaukauna and Appleton. The checks totaled $50.

Ten worthless check counts were consolidated with those in Outagamie County Tuesday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Formal Charges

Although he was formally charged with issuing only 12 worthless checks, the district attorney's office informed the court that Bublitz passed a total of 35 bad checks, totaling $1,036.33, in Outagamie County, and 12, amounting to $283.12, in Winnebago County.

Bublitz's court-appointed attorney sought probation for the youth, saying these were his first offenses.

However, Judge Nick F. Schaefer, acting in part of information contained in a pre-sentence investigation report, ordered the eight months jail term and also placed Bublitz on probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services for two years.

Conditions of the probation are that he make restitution for all the bad checks, repay the county for the cost of his appointed attorney, and pay court costs.

Schaefer, reading from the pre-sentence report, noted that Bublitz has been absent without leave from the Army "more than once."

York said that it is clear that public schools cannot, will not and shall not offer the full spectrum of vocational education programs under the technical school districting law. But some students clearly benefit more from a vocationally-oriented education than from a normal high school education, he said.

Useful Education

The bill is an attempt to make such useful education available to them, York explained.

"This bill provides a vehicle for vocational education within structures already existing," he said of educational systems.

Students and school administrators must come to realize that such vocational education "is utterly important in its own right without seeing academic education as being more respectable," said York.

Tipler suggested that the committee consider amending the bill to delete the 30-mile clause, saying that it probably would not be necessary, although there are school districts located more than 30 miles from daytime vocational education programs at present.

Kaukauna Manirate Because Child Is Bussed to Harrison

KAUKAUNA — The board of one child be attending the same education Tuesday evening received a letter from an irate school. Board members agreed not to make exceptions to the rule, indicating any change for one resident could result in a great demand for transfers which would further complicate an already confusing situation.

Business Manager Thomas Nytes, reporting on bus transportation, stated, "We've got all the kids going someplace. For the first week we were not sure where, but they were all going somewhere." He reported bus areas are first to be assigned transportation was costing the bus transportation, those from district $711.50 per day or $59 per day more than last year as finally those with only one child, a result of shuttling students in a family so as not to break up a family should more than Additional charges such as

Heroism Plaques Awarded To Two Little Chute Men

LITTLE CHUTE — Patrolman George Vander Zanden and James Romensko were awarded heroism plaques and medals by the American Legion Post Monday night in recognition for their efforts in saving a woman from a burning car.

Shortly after midnight May 18 the two men arrived at the scene of a fatal accident and found a 24-year old woman unconscious in a burning car. Flames were shooting from the car and the woman's clothing already was burning when the two pulled her from the wreckage shortly before the entire interior of the car was gutted by the flames.

Police Chief Robert Nechodom presented the award to the patrolman and O'Neil Rochon, Legion commander, made the presentation to Romensko.

Members voted to endorse a bill currently before the state legislature which would reinstate 35 per cent of state liquor tax into the Veteran's Housing Program thus enabling veterans to continue to receive housing loans at a low percentage of interest.

Legion members voted to attempt to fill an Appleton theater with Legionnaires and their wives for the first showing of a new movie concerning Gen. Mark Patton's tank corps. The day night in recognition for their efforts in saving a woman served under Patton, and their wives, will be honored at a cocktail party and luncheon prior to the movie. Harry Samuels was named to head the ticket committee.

Carl Hammen and Leo Hendricks reported on the national convention at Atlanta and members learned, the Little Chute post colors were the only Wisconsin representative in the National Legion parade.

Delegates named to the fall conference at Appleton were Jack Metz, Norbert Demerath, John Demerath, Martin Jansen, Harold Van Dyke, Hammen, Hendricks and Rochon.

Perhaps Another Burglary Is Likely

BERTRAND, Neb. (AP) — A thief broke into the Kuhn Drug Store Aug. 24 and took a camera priced at $20.

After another break-in Monday night, the camera is back on the shelf but a camera of the same make and three times as costly is missing.

In the latest break-in the thief remembered to take film, among other items. But the stolen film is the wrong size to fit the missing camera.

transporting handicapped or contracts with parents to take children to area parochial schools would increase total transportation cost to about $770 per day, Nytes estimated. Board members voted to pay the transportation costs as presented.

Nytes was instructed to attempt to find a solution for two handicapped children who would require special tuition or transportation costs to attend institutions outside the district.

Board members instructed Nytes to meet with Walter Schmidt, high school principal, and attorney Donald Green to determine whether signs could be posted in schools which would require all visitors to secure passes at the school office or be subject to penalty.

Bichler and Olin Dryer, board secretary, were instructed to write the editor of "The Paper" demanding a retraction on a story concerning a school bond issue which, according to board members, contained many "untruths, errors and in general, and inaccurate reporting."

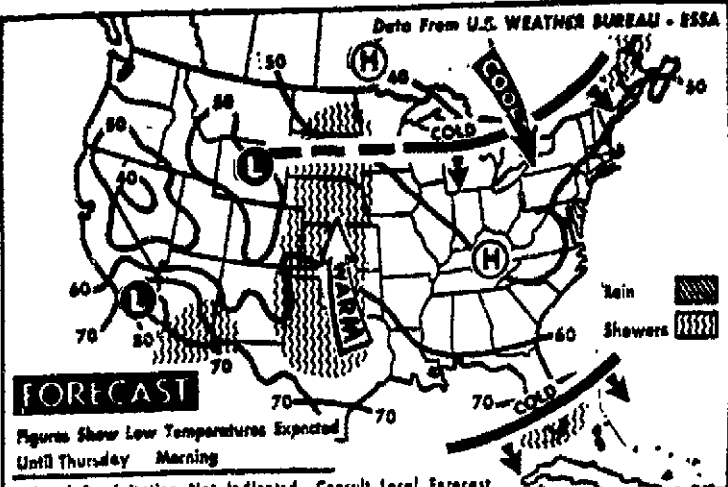

Bichler informed the board that, three specialists would have to be added to the faculty for the 1970-71 school year plus several additional teachers and said this should be considered when planning next year's budget. He also said, any construction within the district would be subject to the increased sales tax of 4 per cent if purchases were made by contractors.

Increased Costs

It is felt the increased tax could raise the cost of school construction as much as $20,000. Board members made plans to meet with the school attorney to see whether purchases of materials for contractors could be made by school board, thus receiving tax-exempt status.

Board members were told a faculty committee and the student council were continuing work on a dress code for students. Some board members felt the dress code should be dropped, indicating many parents were merely expecting the school to handle a problem which they could not solve within the family.

The bargaining committee of the board was authorized to meet the maintenance personnel at 3:30 p.m. on Sept. 15 to begin work on a new contract prior to budget time.

Police Seek Aid to Have Children Use Guarded Crossings

LITTLE CHUTE — Village police report some problem with school children crossing at intersections where no adult crossing guards are stationed and have requested the cooperation of parents in instructing youngsters where to cross.

Guards are located at Madison and McKinley streets, Madison and Main streets, Depot and Main streets, Grand Avenue and at Main Street and County Highways 00 and N, according to Police Chief Robert Nechodom.

"Police will patrol and order children to use crossings where guards are stationed, but parents can do a more effective job in the home," said Nechodom.

Nixon's Racial Policy Confuses Departments

He's Unclear So Justice Slows School Desegregation While HEW Presses On

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The Nixon administration's politically incoherent conduct of southern school desegregation is revealed by the fact that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) is hard at work planning forced racial integration of 34 diehard Mississippi school district during the 1969-1970 school year.

What makes this remarkable is that HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch outraged the civil rights lobby and triggered the widely-publicized rebellion of justice department lawyers by asking the federal courts to move the deadline for these same 34 districts from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1. But that step was only a stay of execution, not a reprieve.

Moreover, any slight softening toward President Nixon in Mississippi resulting from the delay will evaporate with the resumption of the onslaught against desegregated dual school systems (about half of the 34 are districts with Negro majorities). There is no doubt that George Wallace would humiliate Richard Nixon in a Mississippi election rematch today.

Alienate Negro Vote

Thus, because of racial schizophrenia, Mr. Nixon is getting the worst of both worlds. By seeming to follow the political grand design of Attorney General John Mitchell in trying to combine the Nixon and Wallace votes of 1968, he has probably completed alienating the Negro vote. But because his administration still presses for desegregation at a slower pace, he is falling well short of Mitchell's goal.

The reason can be found in the curious decision-making process that pervades the Nixon administration but is most pronounced in civil rights. Mr. Nixon's ambivalence about school desegregation during the 1968 campaign, an appropriate political device, has persisted since his inauguration. At no time has the President made clear, either publicly or inside the government, exactly what he wants done about school desegregation.

The only official administration pronouncement on the question was the July 3 joint statement of Mitchell and Finch — itself a masterpiece of ambivalence. Since then, Mitchell and Finch — who are not personally close — have had little conversation over this sensitive question.

Actually, Finchs differences with Mitchell over the pace of desegregation have not been nearly so sharp as those of subordinate officials at HEW — especially Leon Panetta dispatched a most liberal interpretation of the July 3 Finch-Mitchell statement to HEW field offices. Mitchell hit the ceiling and even protested to the President himself.

Difference At Top

Since then, though Panetta has been kept under wraps, the differences between justice higher-ups and HEW middle-echelon officials have persisted. While Mitchell men at justice talk privately about a more congenial attitude toward the South and broadening the anti-segregation attack to Northern big cities, Finch men at HEW talk privately about demolishing the Southern dual school system during Mr. Nixon's first term in office.

These conflicting currents reached their climax in maneuvering over the Mississippi cases the past two weeks. There is no sign that Finch was subjected to specific pressure to slow down Mississippi desegregation cases. But ever since Jan. 20, he had been under constant nagging from the White House staff to take it easy on the pace of desegregation. It had its effect two weeks ago. Acting against the strong advice of his closest associates at HEW, Finch asked for a delay in the desegregation deadline.

The aftermath of Finch's action typifies the administration's ambiguity on this question. HEW officials had been afraid that the Mississippi delay would prompt many of the 355 Southern school districts scheduled for voluntary school desegregation last week to renege. In fact, few did. But when some Georgia districts did renege, the government quickly went to court to seek a restraining order against them.

No Certainty

The result is a hesitant confidence by the strategists of desegregation at HEW that most of those 34 districts in Mississippi will undergo the agony of desegregation before another September approaches. Yet, when that historic moment comes, it will lack the dramatic impact of, say, the revolt by the Justice Department lawyers triggered by Finch's delay.

In sum, the Southern school question is shaping up a masterpiece of political mismanagement. Because of the policy confusion all year, Mr. Nixon will get little credit from dealing with hard-core Deep South problem districts bemoaned him by the Johnson administration. Simultaneously, the aggressive pro-integration activities by working-level officials at HEW provide ammunition for the rejuvenated White Citizens Council movement that clouds Mr. Nixon's future chances in Mississippi and elsewhere in the Deep South.

Mao's Plans in Effect Free Education or Compulsory Labor?

HONG KONG (AP) — For the first time in China's 3,000-year history a system of rural compulsory free education goes into effect this fall. In some respects it may be a system of compulsory labor.

The new school system is mostly Mao Tse-tung's idea. Western analysts of Chinese affairs say they think it may be one of the biggest gambles China's 76-year-old leader has taken since coming to power in 1949.

The "old" school system was built largely along European lines with doses of Mao thought rattled on its destruction was one major goal of Chairman Mao's cultural revolution purges. This summer the purges were finally extended to elementary schoolteachers and staff.

Plan Put to Test

Now that Mao's men run the classrooms, they can put into effect the kind of education plan opposed by deposed President Liu Shao-chi and his followers.

These are the major outlines of the new school system as related by the Chinese press:

—All children 6-13 will go to school this month.

—Courses have been shortened from 12 to 7 years, and almost no children from the countryside will ever go to a technical institute, college or university.

—Children will spend the seven years in "productive labor," the study of Mao's writings, and in learning better farming methods and the use of farm machinery.

—All schools will be administered and financed locally, instead of from Peking's Ministry of Education.

More Farmers

Mao apparently is saying that to develop its economy China needs fewer physicists and more good farmers, fewer well-educated bureaucrats and more literate welders.

Including "productive labor" in the curriculum will give the country's leaders a ready reserve of flexible labor. Shortening the course to seven years will speed people into the work force.

Experts here say Mao may be right. Developing nations don't have many jobs for highly trained professionals. Mao evidently thinks China has been wasting manpower resources and needs to concentrate training and skills in the lower levels of the country's labor force.

Trained Experts

China's press says the new policy will still provide highly trained experts. But candidates for advanced training will be far fewer than they have been, and all will be selected by the Communist party.

"Essentially, Mao is saying that the old way of developing a country by emphasizing experts and heavy industry hasn't worked in China despite 20 years of trying," one analyst says.

Newly Formed Lumps Should be Analyzed

BY GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is to remind an alcoholic of the a benign tumor? My daughter, 18, has one in her breast. The doctor said it would never cause any trouble but recommended it be removed. Why? — your "cooking whiskey" or Mrs. W.E.

A benign tumor is a lump — a growth of some sort — which is not malignant. That is, it is not cancerous.

Such simple things as warts are "benign tumors." Other tumors, also benign, may sometimes grow to considerable size and have to be removed just because they are a nuisance.

But a malignant tumor not only grows but also spreads and starts cancers elsewhere in the body.

Breast tissue, being glandular tissue, is particularly subject to tumor formation. A great many of these tumors are benign, but some of them are, or become, cancerous.

For that reason many of us, and that includes me, favor removal of a newly-found lump on discovery, to determine positively the nature of the lump. When the lump or tumor is benign, this means removal of the lump only, not the whole breast.

(The day after I wrote this article, a surgeon friend of mine remarked that he had just removed a lump from the breast of a patient who was 25. The laboratory promptly found it to be cancer.)

While cancer is uncommon in women as young as your daughter, I am a firm believer in preventing playing safe by having the lump removed.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would that excess loss of hair can alcohol used in cooking have any effect on an alcoholic? I have read that alcohol evaporates in cooking, thus rendering it harmless and non-intoxicating. — Mrs. I.W.

What are you talking about? Wine sauces, brandy in certain dishes, or what?

From the theoretical standpoint, alcohol does evaporate rather readily, and if you cook something long enough, the alcohol will evaporate or "cook out of it." If it all evaporates, then it's all gone. And alcohol that isn't consumed doesn't hurt anyone.

From the practical standpoint, I'll give you a quite different answer. Suppose you don't cook all the alcohol out? Suppose you leave enough flavor to remind an alcoholic of the bottle? And finally, I'd think it easier for an alcoholic not to have any alcohol around the house, even having it removed. Why? — your "cooking whiskey" or Mrs. W.E.

Dr. Thosteson

"kitchen wine." Some reformed alcoholics aren't bothered by having it in the house; others are. My feeling is that it would be best not to tempt fate. Or tempt the alcoholic. Just omit alcohol from your cooking.

Dear Dr. Thosteson. Please comment on cauterization of the cervix. When is it necessary? Does it hinder or prevent pregnancy? — A.R.

The cervix is composed of many glands. These are subject to cervicitis (infection) with resultant leukorrhea or discharge.

To get rid of this infected tissue, cauterization is done — the affected tissues are burned away.

This is more likely to increase the chance of pregnancy than discharge associated with cer-vix. When is it necessary? — N.H.

Dear Dr. Thosteson Is it true that alcohol used in cooking have any effect on an alcoholic? I have read that alcohol evaporates in cooking, thus rendering it harmless and non-intoxicating. — Mrs. I.W.

An underactive thyroid can cause some thinning of hair and loss of texture, but along with that, there will be other symptoms: dryness of skin, lassitude. There are enough other causes of loss of hair (heredity, scalp disease, various systemic diseases, poor nutrition) that one should not jump to the conclusion that hair loss automatically means thyroid trouble.

To learn the major categories of prostate trouble — symptoms, treatment, how to speed recovery — write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Post-Crescent for his booklet, "The Pesky

Last of Battleships Enters Navy Shipyard

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP) — The battleship New Jersey sailed into Puget Sound Naval Shipyard Monday as the world's last commissioned battleship, and preparations for its deactivation began.

The New Jersey is the nation's only battleship to be used in World War II, the Korean War and the war in Vietnam.

Room for Playground Street Closing to be Asked at Roosevelt

Appleton officials will be asked next week to approve closing off E. Roosevelt Street behind Roosevelt Junior High to allow expansion of the playground area.

The board of education decided Monday night to seek the city street vacation because much of the play area is being eliminated by the expansion of the school.

Supt. of Schools William Spears said play area will be inadequate after the expansion.

No Deadends
Part of Erb Park which is directly north of Roosevelt Street may be needed for the expanded play area, John Schneider, board member, said. The vacation would create deadend streets on N. Drew and N. Durkee streets, the board was assured.

Charles Buchanan, a board member, suggested the city commission be written a letter asking for endorsement. He noted he had sought the vacation some time ago when he was on the commission but plans were too indefinite at that time.

Planning on the present addition indicates the football and softball fields will be cramped

After your baby's bath, he can have this terry cloth robe instead of the shivers.
He'll stay warm—because it's heavy like a towel. And dry—because it's just as absorbent.
Looks cute, too. All white with yellow trim down the front. Buttons as well as a belt. Two pockets. And your baby's name embroidered in red.
The price? $2.75 and two labels from any of Swift's Baby Foods.

While his terry cloth robe keeps him warm and comfortable on the outside.
